174 & 176 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON, MASS.

GOODYEAR RUBBER GLOVE CO.

IN presenting you with this Illustrated Catalogue of the GOODYEAR INDIA RUBBER GLOVE CO.'S GOODS, we desire simply a careful perusal on your part, and to call your attention to some of the points of superiority which these goods possess, over those of any other rubber goods manufactured.

It needs no argument to convince the average shoe dealer, that competition, and the clamor for low prices, has had the tendency to force manufacturers to produce and glut the market with inferior goods, the fact is already too obvious, and the result has been far from satisfactory to the trade, as well as to all concerned, and while we entertain great respect for the opinion of any, who feel they must manufacture, and sell cheap goods, we are pleased to be able to say, that with the constantly increasing demand for the better class of Rubber Boots and Shoes, the GOODYEAR GLOVE CO. are more determined than ever to fully maintain the high standard they have achieved in the manufacture of their goods, and we believe a large share of the trade will appreciate our efforts in this direction.

GOODYEAR RUBBER GLOVE CO.

The entire energies of this Company are bent in one direction, viz: that of making the very best goods it is possible to produce, and with this in view, only skilled workmen are employed, and nothing but the choicest materials are used in their manufacture.

The GOODYEAR GLOVE CO.'S GOODS are manufactured expressly for and sold directly to the fine retail trade, and while all other companies place their goods in the hands of jobbers—who must have a profit,—manufacturers find a rigid competition and small profits staring them in the face, and are compelled to resort to inferior goods as a matter of self-preservation.

This objection is obviated by us, as we control our goods entirely, and do not sell to jobbers, so that they can only be had through us, or Lamkin & Foster, who are the sole agents for New England.

These goods are packed in individual boxes; are but a trifle higher than the ordinary cheap goods, and, as the quality is so far superior to any goods made by ther companies called specialties, that we feel warranted in saying that should you give our goods one trial, we believe you will never be without them.

In conclusion we would say that, to dealers not familiar with the GOODYEAR GLOVE GOODS, we are anxious for you to investigate this matter, and give them a trial, with this in view we would be pleased to fill a sample order, subject to your approval.

Truly yours,

THE GOODYEAR INDIA RUBBER GLOVE CO.

LAMKIN & FOSTER, Sole Agents for New England.

N.B.—Do not confound the Goodyear Glove Goods with the cheap grades manufactured by other parties, and stamped Good-year, WITHOUT THE GLOVE.

This Shoe is well adapted to city wear, being light, and easily adjusted to the foot; also for travelling and seaside use, surpasses anything found in the rubber line.

IN the foregoing pages of this Catalogue, we have given you a full description of our light fine goods, that are packed in cartons, and made on fine linen finish lining, which renders them very light weight, and more especially adapted to fine city trade; but from the suburban and country trade, where rubber goods are subjected to a much more severe test, on the rough and frozen ground, comes a demand for a heavier and more substantial line of goods. With this in view, the GOODYEAR GLOVE CO. manufacture a line of goods just adapted to meet this class of trade, being made of the very best material, and on a strong cotton lining, renders them a most superior article for real service.

These goods are furnished the retail trade, direct, and at a price somewhat lower than the light goods, but we desire to have it distinctly understood they are in no way inferior, and, at the same time we make this statement, the question will arise in the mind of some—"How can they be produced, and sold at a lower price than the light goods?" Without entering too far into the detail, will say simply, that one item of expense in the manufacture of light goods is the fine linen finish lining used, while another and more important item is that long experience and the most skillful workmanship is necessary in order to be able to produce the goods, and in the manufacture of the heavier grade, a good mechanic soon acquires the requisite skill.

For the convenience of the trade, we will state that all the linings in our fine goods will be of a buff color, while in the heavy they will be blue or purple.

On the following pages will be found our Price List, the difference in cost between the light and heavy goods being regulated by the discount, which we will be pleased to furnish upon application.

Bear in mind that the GLOVE TRADE MARK will be found on every Boot and Shoe manufactured by this Company.

The heavy goods are not packed in cartons.
