THE

Improved "Standloop" Rubber Boot.

PATENTED NOV. 6. 1877.

This Boot is of the same finish as the Pure Gum Boot which was first introduced to the Trade by the BOSTON RUBBER SHOE CO. The improvement in Strap consists of a round, stiff standing loop, made of Rubber, which takes the place of the ordinary old style web strap. The loop being always in place prevents the annoyance and delay of adjusting the Strap when used in the dark or cold, and it never pulls out or breaks. It was first designed for use in FIRE DEPARTMENTS, but its many advantages were at once recognized and its marked success with the Trade has placed it ahead of all other Boots in the market.

VERTICAL HEEL IRONS.

The merits of this improved Heel Iron, as shown in the above cut, will be readily seen. Being securely moulded in the heel it cannot get loose, and the objections to outside heel plates, i.e., such as slipping, rattling, catching, etc., are fully obviated.
