INDEX OF SUBJECTS

FOREWORD

A thirteen year old boy manned a machine gun against advancing Allied tanks on the Rhineland frontier, while his mates passed the ammunition.

An execution squad composed of 14-16 year olds shot Polish civilian hostages.

A monument was erected to a boy still living, commemorating the fact that he denounced his father "loyally to the Führer": (the father was executed for treason).

Herbert Norkus, the Hitler Youth martyr, is the Horst Wessel of most of Germany's young today.

Eleven years of Nazi indoctrination, at a most susceptible age, in the Hitler Youth has done its work.

The Hitler Youth is not a Boy Scout or Girl Guide organisation. It is in no respect comparable to any organisation for young people known to the Western World.

It is a compulsory Nazi formation, which has consciously sought to breed hate, treachery and cruelty into the mind and soul of every German child. It is, in the true sense of the word, "education for death".

Under no circumstances should the Hitler Youth be taken lightly or be considered a negligible factor from an operational or occupation point of view.

Some 12 to 14 million youths are organised into the four branches of the Hitler Youth:

The Hitler Youth proper (boys from 14-18)

The German Young Folk (boys 10-14)

The League of German Girls (girls from 14-18)

The Young Girls (girls from 10-14)

A rough estimate on the basis of over-all figures available would place between 3,000,000 and 3,500,000 into each branch. Of this number, 30,000 serve as fully-paid, full-time leaders.

Approximately 1,000 male and 1,000 female Banne (Regiments averaging 6,000 members each) carry on administration and training.

In addition, in 1943, the Hitler Youth maintained between 7,000 and 8,000 camps and other establishments. 1,500,000 boys (most of them over 14) attended special Hitler Youth training courses there in one year.

514,000 17 year olds received Hitler Youth training in Pre-Military Training Camps, of which some 300 are at present in operation throughout the Reich.

The emphasis of the following Basic Handbook and appended Order of Battle tables is on the 14-18 year old male group, the Hitler Youth proper, the primary potential source of disaffection and the primary source of replacements for the Wehrmacht.

The above figures not only indicate the vast scope of the Hitler Youth in German life today, but demonstrate the role which it plays in Germany's actual and potential military strength.

Both the SS and the Wehrmacht have long since appreciated this. From mere liaison with the Hitler Youth, their relationship with the HJ has passed through the stage of supervision and has finally resulted in complete domination.

The Hitler Youth has become a Wehrmacht replacement pool, a manpower reservoir for auxiliary war services, and a means of strengthening the increasingly pernicious hold on the German people of the most ruthless of all Nazi organisations, the SS.

A few courageous young Germans, risking their lives in order to salvage their minds, spirits and perhaps their country, have sought to escape from the tentacles of the Hitler Youth, and some underground cells composed of such young people are known to exist.

But it must not be forgotten that every young German has been schooled by Nazi teachers, and that this "Junior Army" is ready to take the field either individually, in small groups, on a larger, more organised scale, or as saboteurs, informers and even franc-tireurs in defence of Nazism, its fanatical creed.

PART I

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND AND DEVELOPMENT

1. Die Jugendbewegung (The German Youth Movement)

The growth and success of the HJ organisations cannot be properly appreciated without some reference to the earlier history of the Deutsche Jugendbewegung (German Youth Movement).

Since the end of the last century, the latter gave young people an opportunity to express themselves and to carry on various activities in organisations of their own.

Young people of both sexes joined Jugendgemeinschaften (Youth Communities) and formed groups of Wandervögel (Young Hikers) which had no political programme, but were animated by youth's determination to express itself unfettered by the older generation.

Their activities included hiking, camping and evening meetings for lectures and discussions; much emphasis was placed on the rediscovering and singing of old German folk songs.

The "Meissner Formula", a proclamation made by a "Youth Rally" in 1913, shaped a general policy of "Inner Freedom", a reaction against the complacency and restrictions of German middle-class life, its prejudices and "bourgeois mind".

After the First World War the youth movement developed at an accelerated pace and reached its peak in the twenties when many new groups sprang up, and the Bündische Jugend (League of Youth) partly took the place of the original Jugendbewegung.

At this point many political parties, among them the NSDAP (Nationalsozialistische Deutsche Arbeiterpartei-National Socialist Workers' Party) began to form their own youth organisations, and it is estimated that in the late nineteen-twenties four million German boys and girls belonged to the young people's sections of various political and non-political factions, some 80,000 being members of the original Bündische Jugend (League of Youth).

The Nazis were regarded as outsiders by virtually all other youth formations.

2. Beginnings of the HJ

On March 8th, 1922, Hitler, in his own newspaper, the "Völkische Beobachter", announced the establishment of the Jugendbund der NSDAP (Youth League of the Nazi Party), later known as the Jungsturm Adolf Hitler (Youth Shock Troop Adolf Hitler).

Other youth groups with National Socialist tendencies also existed, but were not directly affiliated to Hitler's Jugendbund. Thus the Nationalsozialistische Arbeiterjugend (Nazi Workers Youth) operated in the Rhein and Ruhr regions.

In May 1925 the Wandersportverein VOGTLAND (Hiking Club VOGTLAND), in PLAUEN, Saxony, merged with the MÜNCHEN Jugendbund, in MUNICH, Bavaria, under the new name of Hitler-Jugend, a term coined by the notorious anti-semite Julius STREICHER, then Nazi "chieftain" of Franconia.

This new Nazi organisation, culminating in the HJ of today was under the leadership of Kurt GRUBER, of the PLAUEN group.

3. Expansion of HJ into a State Organisation

Although the HJ had borrowed much of its technique and some of its symbols from the old Jugendbewegung, from the very first it added a nationalistic and decidedly militaristic note. In 1925 it became a junior branch of the SA (Stormtroopers) and directly subordinate to the SA High Command.

The movement, in true Nazi fashion was opposed to school, church and home and attracted many youngsters.

In 1928 600 boys gathered at the first national HJ rally at BAD STEBEN. At the NURNBERG Party Rally of the following year 2,500 boys were present.

In 1929 the NS Schulerbund (Nazi Secondary School Boys League) was recognised as an official affiliate of the Hitler Youth Organisation.

By 1930 the HJ had 900 Ortsgruppen (local groups) in Germany and the DJ (Deutsches Jungvolk-German Young Folk) for boys aged 10-14 and BDM (Bund Deutscher Mädel-League of German Girls) were founded as branches of the HJ.

By 1931 the total membership had expanded to 15,000.

Despite the fact that the HJ was temporarily banned by the Republican Government, its ranks continued to swell under the leadership of Baldur von SCHIRACH and by 1932 its numbers had risen to 250,000. In the same year the HJ was separated from the SA, mainly to free it from the ban imposed on the Stormtroopers.

When Hitler took over full Governmental power in 1933, many more boys and girls joined, and all other youth organisations were rapidly prohibited and disbanded, their members being subsequently urged to join the HJ.

Considerable opposition was encountered at first from the Catholic and Left Wing Youth Movements, but these organisations, too, were partly crushed and partly absorbed in ruthless fashion.

After the first year of the Nazi regime, the HJ, including its branches, DJ, JM, and BDM, numbered two million.

One year later this figure had actually doubled, and by the 1st. of December, 1934, when the HJ was declared Staatsjugend (Government-sponsored Youth Organisation), the total amounted to six million, of which one and a half million belonged to the HJ proper, the others to its branches.

4. Reichsjugenddienstpflicht (Compulsory Youth Service)

The Decree of December 1, 1936, providing for Reichsjugenddienstpflicht (Compulsory Youth Service), not only legalised the existence of the HJ, but also completely destroyed all the remaining youth organisations in Germany.

The decree contained three major points:

- (a) All German Youth shall join the HJ.
- (b) The mission of the HJ is to train all German Youth-physically, mentally and morally for national service in the spirit of National Socialism. School and home are subordinated to the interests of the State.
- (c) The Reichsjugendführer (Reich Youth Leader) is entrusted with all phases of the education of German youth, and is responsible only to the FUHRER.

Every child being compelled to serve in the HJ, the Party gained an enormous influence over the youth of the country and an assured supply of recruits for its own ranks.

By "voluntary application" the highest age group may apply for transfer into any NSDAP Gliederungen (formations) e.g. the SA, SS, or NSKK. Only the select are accepted for the NSDAP (Nazi Party proper) itself.

An attempt to maintain a Stamm-HJ (Original HJ) as a superimposed structure, including only members of long standing or those who had proved themselves ardent Nazis, resulted in much confusion and had to be abandoned.

PART II

ORGANISATION (See diagrams, Annexe C)

5. Main branches of the Hitler-Jugend

The Hitler-Jugend is organised into four main branches.

- (a) Hitler-Jugend for boys aged 14-18
- (b) Deutsches Jungvolk (DJ or German Young Folk) for boys aged 10-14 who subsequently transfer to the HJ proper.
- (c) Bund Deutscher Mädel (BDM or League of German Girls) for girls aged 14-18.
- (d) Jungmädel (JM or Young Girls) for girls aged 10-14 who subsequently transfer to the BDM proper.

The terms HJ and BDM are used very loosely, and require a special note. Strictly speaking HJ refers to (a) above, and BDM to (c) above. In practice, however, HJ is widely used to cover both (a) and (b), and BDM to cover both (c) and (d).

Further, the term HJ is used in a third sense, to indicate the whole Youth Movement.

For convenience all these meanings have been used in this handbook, as the sense should invariably be clear from the context.

Organisation of the four branches runs along parallel lines.

The programme of the DJ consists of preparatory training for the HJ. Although special training in Sondereinheiten (Specialist Units) is officially limited to members of the HJ proper, specialist units such as Flieger-DJ (Aviation) and Nachrichten-DJ (Signals) have recently been reported in the DJ.

The task of the BDM and JM is the education of girls for "companionship, honour and faith". They are to be made "conscious of their duty as German girls to become good housewives and to have as many children as possible".

A sub-section, Glaube und Schönheit (Faith and Beauty), organises women volunteers between the ages of 18 and 21 who aspire to careers in the girls' and women's organisations of the Nazi Party and its affiliates, e.g. the NSF (National Socialist Party Women's Branch) and the NSV (National Socialist Welfare Organisation).

6. Die Reichsjugendführung (Reich Youth Directorate)

The Reichsjugendführung (RJF - Reich Youth Directorate) controls the policy as well as the administration of the whole HJ.

It is headed by a Reichsjugendführer (Reich Youth Leader) assisted by an Adjutant and a Stabsführer (Chief of Staff). The Reichsreferentin (BDM) controls the BDM (Bund Deutscher Mädel - League of German Girls) and the JM (Jungmädel - Young Girls), and she is responsible directly to the Reichsjugendführer.

The RJF is divided into five special executive branches (Zentralamt, Auslands-und Volkstumamt, Kinderlandverschickung, Kriegsbetreuungsdienst, AH-Schulen) and into six Hauptämter (Departments). The bureaux of the Hauptämter are known as Ämter, and their sections and sub-sections as Hauptabteilungen and Abteilungen respectively.

All Reichsschulen (National Schools) are controlled by the RJF.

For chart and details of the RJF see Annexe C

Note: Used in connection with the RJF, the abbreviation "HA" indicates Hauptamt (Department): in the Gebietsführung it stands for the Hauptabteilung (Executive Section). See next paragraph.

7. HJ Gebiete (HJ Regions)

The HJ inside Greater Germany is organised into 43 Gebiete (Regions). With the exception of the Gebiet Sudetenland and the Gebiet Befehlsstelle Böhmen und Mähren, each such region corresponds to a Gau (district) of the Nazi Party proper. For occupied territory, see para. 37. For list of Gebiete and corresponding Party Gaue, see Annexe A.

Each Gebiet is headed by the Gebietsführer (Regional Leader), whose deputy is his Stabsleiter (Chief of Staff).

The Gebietsführung (Regional HQ) is organised into Hauptabteilungen (Executive Sections), abbreviated to HA, and special semi-independent offices. The functions of the Hauptabteilungen in general correspond to those of the Hauptämter (Departments) of the RJF:-

- HA I Personnel
- HA II Pre-military Training and Sports
- HA III Ideological Training and Cultural Activities
- HA IV Social Services
- HA V Buildings and Homes
- HA VI Legal Matters

Hauptabteilungen are split up into Abteilungen (Sub-sections).

The Gebietsführer may appoint a subordinate to perform tasks which are normally the function of a HA or its sub-section. Such specially appointed officials are termed, for example:

Gebietsbeauftragter (Regional Plenipotentiary) für KLV (Kinderlandverschickung-Evacuation of Children) or Gebietsmusikreferent (Regional Director of Music) or Gebietsarzt (Regional Director of Medicine).

A Gebietsinspektor may be a general inspector of the HJ within the region, or he may be a specialist (e.g. Inspector of Flying, Signals or Camps) in charge of specialist units.

Each Gebiet administers and maintains schools and camps. Two or more Gebietsführerschulen (Regional Officers' Schools) provide training for the many executive posts required by the Organisation. Some Gebiete conduct special schools, such as music or medical schools or provide other specialist's courses.

Although the Armed Forces have actually taken over the operation of the Wehrertüchtigungslager (Pre-military Training Camps) the Gebietsführung concerned still administers them.

All youth hostels, nominally under the Deutsche Jugendherbergen (DJH or German Youth Hostels, an organisation carried over from the Republic) are actually under HJ administration and supervision.

Details of each Gebiet are given in Annexe A, Part Two.

8. The HJ Standort (Garrison)

The HJ Standort (Garrison) is the highest local authority on all matters concerning German Youth. It is under the command of the Standortführer (Garrison Commander) and handles all administrative details with regard to Reichsjugenddienstpflicht (Compulsory National Youth Service).

The Standort maintains the individual youth's Jugendstammblatt (Personal Record); this contains all personal data, information on activities etc. in the greatest detail.

Extracts of the most essential information are kept on the Karteikarte (Filing Card) held by the member's unit, and on the Dienstkarte (Service Card), which also serves as personal identity card.

Being a local administrative authority, the Standort is not part of the unit structure of the HJ, although, as will be seen in the Order of Battle lists (Annexe A), the Standortführer (SOF) is often also the commander of a Bann.

9. HJ Banne (Regiments)

The Bann (Regiment) is the basic unit of the HJ: in a Gebiet there are from ten to thirty, or even more Banne.

In 1943 the Jungbann of the DJ, parallel to the Bann was abolished and the DJ Jungstämme (literally "Youth Tribes") were placed under the supervision of the HJ Bann.

Generally each NSDAP-Kreis (Party not Governmental District) contains one corresponding HJ Bann, and its Headquarters are located in the same town as the corresponding NSDAP-Kreis HQ. Larger Banne sometimes organise their own schools and courses and some even operate youth hostels and homes as well as camping sites.

The Bann is led by the Bannführer who frequently also holds the office of Standortführer (Garrison Commander). He is assisted by an Adjutant and a Hauptstammführer.

The Bann administration is divided into 6 Hauptstellen (Executive Offices) the functions of which generally correspond to the 6 Hauptämter (Departments) of the RJF and the 6 parallel Hauptabteilungen (Executive Sections) of the Gebietsführung (Regional Command HQs).

An average Bann of about 6,000 is sub-divided into 5 Stämme ("Tribes") of the HJ and 5 Jungstämme of the DJ with a strength of about 600 each, but a large Bann of 9,000 might contain 15 Stämme.

10. Specialist Units of the Bann

Each Bann has some special service units, usually:-

Motor-Stamm (Motorised)
Flieger-Stamm (Aviation) and Nachrichten-Stamm (Signals).

These special service Stämme are sub-divided in accordance with the established pattern of Gefolgschaft (Company), Schar (Platoon) and Kamaradschaft (Comradeship) as outlined below. (para.11)

Among the smaller special service units found in the average Stamm are:-

- One or two Musik-Gefolgschaften (Music)
- A Sicherungsdienst (SRD)-Gefolgschaft (Security Detachment) for patrolling, and
- A Feuerwehr-Schar (Firefighting Platoon).

11. Organisation below Regimental level

From the Stamm downwards the unit of organisation is standardised. A Stamm is divided into 4 Gefolgschaften (Companies) of 150 each, and the Gefolgschaft is organised into 3 Scharen (Platoons) of 50 each.

Each Schar is sub-divided into 3 Kamaradschaften (Comradeships) of 15 each, and the latter split into 2 Rotten (files). A diagram giving organisation details will be found in Annexe C. The number of youths in a community determines whether a Stamm, Gefolgschaft or Schar is organised there.

12. Numbering of Units

The numbering system of the Banne was originally designed to correspond with the regimental numbers of the Wehrmacht in the same area. The HJ was to "carry on the old tradition" but the rapid expansion of the HJ made great inconsistencies inevitable.

Besides its number each Bann carries a name; this may be a special name (e.g. a Party martyr or a geographical term) or simply the name of the HQ location, or both.

Unit designations are usually given in arabic numerals, the first indicating the Gefolgschaft, the second indicating the Bann. Thus 1/100 stands for first Gefolgschaft of Bann 100. Na.1/100 stands for first Nachrichten-Gefolgschaft (Signals Unit) of Bann 100.

The Stamm is indicated by a Roman Numeral. Thus I/100 stands for the first Stamm of Bann 100. Na.I/100 stands for the first Nachrichten-Stamm of Bann 100.

The special service units are numbered consecutively in a separate series for each branch within every Bann.

PART III

CONSCRIPTION AND TRAINING

13. Conscription Procedure

Conscription proceeds each year as follows: the ten year old registers in January and receives his Meldeschein (Registration Card).

In March he appears at the Aufnahmeappell (Preliminary Rollcall) of his Standort.

Between the 10th and 19th April the Standort conducts a technischer Aufnahmedienst (Preliminary Technical Course) culminating in the Pimpfenprobe (Cub's Entrance Examination)

On the 20th April, the F hrer's birthday, a ceremonial Standortappel (Total Rollcall) is staged, at which all HJ members, old and new, must appear. The new Pimpf (cub) of the DJ and the new Jungm del ("young girl") of the JM, together with the 14 year olds who are being transferred into the HJ and the BDM respectively, take the oath of allegiance:

"Ich gelobe meinem F hrer Adolf Hitler Treue. Ich verspreche ihm und den F hrern, die er mir bestimmt, jederzeit Achtung und Gehorsam entgegen zu bringen" ("I promise to be faithful to my F hrer, Adolf Hitler. I promise obedience and respect to him and to the leaders he shall appoint over me").

It is noteworthy that this oath is strikingly similar to that administered to the Waffen SS.

The new boy member is now entitled to wear the dagger with the inscription "Blut und Ehre" ("Blood and Honour").

14. Basic Training

Activities of the HJ membership are numerous and take up a good deal of the German boy's time; exactly how much it is impossible to estimate, even though many regulations have been issued on this subject. It may be said, however, that most of the time not spent at work or school is spent serving the HJ.

At present it appears that the day-to-day situation largely regulates the duties required of HJ members, but the basic peace time programme is carried on side-by-side with the war duties resulting from Germany's manpower shortage.

Weltanschauung (ideological training) is at all times one of the important phases in a young German's schooling. At least one evening each week is spent attending lectures given by specially trained leaders who use minutely worked out directives and Schulungsbriefe (educational pamphlets). Here the HJ boys memorise many stock phrases of the Nazi political programme.

Physical training in the HJ is designed to develop the young Germans, in Hitler's own words, into junior supermen: "hard as steel, tough as leather and swift as greyhounds". All physical training is carried out with the help and supervision of the NSRBL, the Nationalsozialistischer Reichsbund f r Leibes bung (National Socialist League for Physical Training).

Two of the three weekly meetings are usually devoted to some form of physical exercise inevitably of military nature (grenade throwing, small arms practice, etc.). Thus when the boy arrives at a Sommerlager (summer camp) or Wehrertüchtigungslager (WEL or Pre-military Training Camp), he is already well acquainted with basic military formations and drill.

The training, both mental and physical, is permeated by Nazi ideology and method, and in these camps, vacation periods are utilised by the Nazi Party to strengthen still further its hold over the young.

Various contests, such as Musischer Wettbewerb (Music and Art Contest), Reichsberufswettkampf (National Vocational Contest) and sports meetings on national and regional levels, are held in order to stimulate a spirit of competition and to promote higher standards of performance.

Winners are usually presented with certificates or badges, and receive commensurate publicity in HJ publications, being hailed almost as junior heroes.

Details of HJ Proficiency Examinations are given in Annexe E.

15. Vocational Training

The vocational guidance programme of the HJ is conducted in the closest co-operation with the Deutsche Arbeitsfront (DAF or German Labour Front). The Gaujugendwarter (Nazi Party Regional Youth Representative for the DAF) collaborates with the respective Gebietsführung in vocational guidance for the HJ.

Landdienst (Farm Service) in distinct contrast to the Landjahr (obligatory year in agriculture) involves four years of training in all phases of agriculture, part of which is conducted on a Landdienstlehrhof (model training farm): see Annexe A.

In peacetime, upon graduation at 18 the boy receives his Neubauernschein (Junior Farmer's Certificate). The aim of this training was to provide a number of young farmers to colonise the Eastern Territories.

Land Service formerly claimed many HJ boys, but today, because of shortages elsewhere, they are called for such work only when a farm labour shortage is acute enough to require them, either locally, or elsewhere in the Reich or in occupied territories.

For girls this service year remains universally obligatory.

The Bergdienst (Mining Service) of the HJ trains boys of 18 (also during war-time) for leading positions in the mining industry.

The five year course includes one year of Reich Labour Service (RAD or Reichsarbeitsdienst) and is divided into three phases. Each phase is completed by an examination, and the candidate progressively attains the rank of Knappe (Miner), Hauer (Hewer) and Steiger (Foreman).

Wages for productive work performed during the schooling range from 15 RM to 45 RM per month, and an additional 17 RM are deposited in the boy's Government Savings Account to which he has no personal access.

16. Schools

The HJ has developed an extensive system of schools designed to train future leaders for its own and other NSDAP organisations.

These potential leaders are carefully moulded into the pattern of National Socialism and emerge as conscious Nazis, applying their philosophy to all situations and persons.

(Cases are on record of elderly citizens being thrown into concentration camps merely for making contemptuous references to HJ members.)

Lists of all HJ schools will be found in Annexe A.

17. Gebietsführerschulen (Regional Schools for Officers)

Gebietsführerschulen (Regional Schools for Officers) are controlled by the Gebietsführung (Regional Command HQs) and serve as training centres for those boys who already lead large groups or who are capable of doing so.

The boys are given special courses in physical training and Party doctrines by HJ training personnel and schooled to fill posts within the structure of the Gebiet.

Instruction is given throughout the year, but primarily during holidays or summer months.

18. Reichsschulen (National Schools)

These schools are under the direct supervision of the RJF. They are specialist schools attended by HJ members from all Gebiete.

Curricula are based on military, naval, sport, administrative and other subjects, but leadership is stressed equally with proficiency in the special subject.

The Auslands- und Volkstumsamt (Bureau for Foreign Affairs and Germanism) conducts courses in foreign languages and awards the HJ-Sprachmittlerschein (Interpreter's Certificate) for proficiency.

19. Nationalpolitische Erziehungsanstalten (National Political Educational Institutions)

These establishments, which are abbreviated to NPEA or Napola, are types of secondary school and components of the HJ organisation.

An NPEA is usually organised as a HJ-Stamm, and is directed by a staff of SS Leaders whose pedagogical and intellectual qualifications are often outweighed by their political reliability and previous services to the party.

Since physical training has first place, instruction in practically all kinds of military "sports", such as skiing, glider flying, motoring etc. is emphasised. Tuition must be paid by parents.

Graduates are not particularly enjoined to enter party or Government service, but are usually attracted to military careers because of preferential treatment in the attainment of commissions.

20. The Reichsjugendakademie (National Youth Academy)

The Reichsjugendakademie (National Youth Academy) in BRAUNSCHWEIG, a formal institute of higher learning for senior HJ leaders, was set up in 1939 when it took over the enlarged functions of the Reichsjugendführerschule (National Youth Officers School) still in operation in POTSDAM. Candidates for admission must have reached their 17th birthday and have completed secondary school or vocational training. The school trains HJ leaders who wish to make a career of their calling.

The ordinary course lasts two years and consists of five phases embracing practical experience in Barr administration, three weeks of manual labour in German industry and six months abroad.

Successful completion of studies entitles the student to the Jugendführerpatent (Youth Leader Commission) and results in immediate appointment to a responsible position in the HJ.

Recently disabled War veterans between the ages of 21 and 28 have been admitted in large numbers, and various shorter courses in Administration, Nazi Ideology, "Cultural Work", Press and Propaganda, Health Service, Social Work or Farm Service were instituted for them.

21. Adolf-Hitler-Schulen (Adolf Hitler Schools)

Adolf-Hitler-Schulen (Adolf Hitler Schools) are free boarding schools conducted by the NSDAP, so called because they were conceived, "partly endowed" and allegedly architecturally planned by the Führer himself. Each school is directly under the supervision of the respective NSDAP Gauleiter (Party District Executive). Students are selected at the age of twelve from the ranks of the DJ, and admission depends on possession of all the basic characteristics of a good Nazi.

These schools combine a curious mixture of toughness and luxury. They are on the secondary school level and place great emphasis on military "sports", character building, and devotion to the Party-state.

The teaching staff has received some or all of its training at the Reichsjugendakademie. The student is regarded as a member of the HJ throughout his five years of schooling. Upon graduation, the students designed for eventual NSDAP leadership are admitted into the Party proper.

Of the 4,000 graduates emerging from the AH Schulen each year, 1,000 are selected to reassemble after seven years of Party or HJ work, and, with other outstanding young leaders, to enter one of the Ordensburgen (Castles of the Teutonic Order).

Four Ordensburgen known as KRÖSSINSEE, VOGELSANG, SONTHOFEN and MARIENWERDER are in existence. There, according to the chief of the German Labour Front, Robert LEY, this "Elite" is trained as the future Masters of Germany " - great in knowledge, blind in obedience, fanatical in faith".

PART IV

WAR SERVICE AND MILITARY TRAINING

22. War Service

War has imposed many additional responsibilities on the HJ. and efforts are made to place the boys where manpower shortages are most pressing. To attract youth into German industries and simultaneously maintain political hold over them HJ.-Lehrlingsheime (Apprentices Homes) have been instituted in the large towns, where in addition to an eight-hour day in the factories, the boys also carry out nearly full HJ duties. Wages are nominal and saving is compulsory.

The Kriegseinsatz (War Emergency Service) was created to help with duties such as firefighting and ARP, HJ. personnel also working as conductors, mail clerks, postmen, street cleaners etc. War salvage activities and collections for war charities are conducted regularly by the HJ as well as the Kinderlandverschickung (KLV, or evacuation of children from bombed areas).

In the Kriegsbetreuungsdienst (KBD or Forces Welfare Service) the HJ writes letters and sends parcels to the front, entertains soldiers in hospitals or while on leave, and runs canteens for members of the Army.

The German High Command's call for volunteers has been met by a considerable response from the 17 year olds of the HJ. Volunteering is made attractive by the granting of special privileges, such as short leaves, the wearing of the HJ armband on the left upper arm of the army tunic, and the designation of "Kriegsfreiwilliger" (Volunteer), instead of the customary "private".

HJ serving in any capacity with the Armed Forces are also entitled to receive regular army decorations for good work.

Many HJ boys of the older age groups have also volunteered to serve as Armed Force Auxiliaries in defence of the home country. HJ-Luftwaffenhelfer (AA Auxiliaries) are sixteen year olds organised to man anti-aircraft defences, serve as spotters, and work at AA posts, releasing members of the Armed Forces for front line duty.

Only students of secondary schools may volunteer for training and assignment as Luftwaffenhelfer. They may be transferred to any distant danger area, but are bi-annually guaranteed a two-week holiday to see their families. Their HJ uniform is supplemented by airforce boots, a steel helmet, and other necessary personal Luftwaffe equipment.

HJ-Marinehelfer (Naval Auxiliaries) are members of the Marine-HJ, who have volunteered for routine duties with the Navy in the coastal areas of Germany.

Panzerschreckabteilungen (tank delaying sections) of the HJ. have recently been reported in action against the invading Allied armoured units.

23. Liaison with the Armed Forces

All branches of the Armed Forces have maintained close liaison with the HJ having their own representatives in the RJF (Reich Youth Directorate). The Army, Airforce, and Navy fix definite annual quotas for special training in the HJ with a view to future recruiting.

Each Wehrkreis (military district or Corps Commands of the Wehrmacht) and each Luftgau (district of the Luftwaffe) has a Nachwuchsoffizier (Recruiting Officer) who is assisted by a HJ Verbindungs-offizier (HJ--Liaison Officer).

By order of the Army High Command a direct relationship between units of the field army and units of the HJ was established in January 1944. A regiment or an independent battalion "adopts" a HJ-Bann as Patenbann (Foster Bann). The regiment's Ersatz Einheit (Replacement Depot), located in the vicinity of the Bann, actively collaborates in the military training programme of the Bann.

Members of the adopting army regiment or battalion in the field are often detached to the Bann to relate their war experiences and to act as temporary instructors.

In this connection it must be mentioned that the Waffen-SS exerts a disproportionately high influence upon the HJ.

In response to the increased need for trained manpower in the Armed Forces, the HJ has undertaken to provide basic training for boys under military age. Although semi-military activities have always played an important part among the duties of the HJ formal pre-military training under direct supervision of the Armed Forces was not introduced until 1942. Its purpose is to supplement the training which must be compressed into a very short period when the boys are called up for regular service.

24. Wehrertüchtigungslager (Pre-Military Training Camps)

The most effective form of pre-military training takes place in the Wehrertüchtigungslager (WEL or Pre-Military Training Camps), of which some 300 are believed to exist in Greater Germany.

Every 17 year old boy is required to take the three weeks basic course at a WEL before being drafted to labour service or prior to being "induced to volunteer" for the Armed Forces, including the Waffen-SS.

The usual WEL has accommodation for 300 to 400 boys, who are organised into Scharen and Kameradschaften.

Instructors are Army officers or more frequently nowadays officers of the Waffen-SS and NCO's with combat experience. Professional or semi-professional HJ leaders serve as assistants and administrators only and a staff of male and female civilians maintain routine services.

The WEL is a very modern establishment, in no way comparable to army barracks. It has dining rooms, lounges, modernly-equipped kitchens and sick bays, store rooms, lecture halls with special technical and demonstrating equipment, motor pools and shops, sports arenas, and firing ranges.

The training plan provides for practical field exercises, and manoeuvres, the use of small arms, as well as sports and ideological schooling. Close order drill is kept to a minimum.

The K.-Schein (War Training Certificate) marks the successful completion of the course.

25. Sondereinheiten (Specialist Units)

Sondereinheiten (Special Service Units) have assumed increased importance in the accelerated pre-military training programme of the HJ. By decree of the R.J.F. 35% of each HJ age group must supplement their basic training in Sondereinheiten, where they acquire a rudimentary knowledge of the various branches of military service.

HJ members of specialist units are organised into separate Scharen or attend a special WEL., e.g. one for signal, motor or aviation training.

The various specialist service certificates and badges may be acquired during a course at the WEL. The most advanced trainees try to fulfil the requirements for the K.-Übungsleiter Schein (War Training Instructor's Certificate).

By the end of 1943 approximately 514,000 youths had passed through pre-military training camps of the Hitler Youth Organisation.

26. Nachrichten HJ. (Signals)

The Nachrichten-HJ (Signals) prepares boys for duty in the signal units of the Army and Air Force, and recently signal training has also been given in special service units of the DJ preparatory to transfer into the Nachrichten-HJ.

Training is conducted under direct supervision of the Armed Forces, and with full utilisation of their establishments and equipment. It is divided into three phases:-

The first course lasting six months, gives signal training, including an introduction to communication procedure and the operation of simple signal instruments and equipment. After passing an examination, the HJ boy receives the Nachrichtenschein A (Signals Certificate A) which entitles him to wear a distinctive badge "A" on his left forearm.

The second course consists of two and a half years of basic signal training covering all types of signal communication. Upon passing his final examination in this course the trainee receives Nachrichtenschein B (Signals Certificate B) with the corresponding badge "B" to wear on his sleeve.

The third is a special course adding the final touch to the general signal training, and culminates in Nachrichtenschein C and its corresponding badge.

27. Motor HJ. (Motorised Hitler Youth)

The Motor HJ, founded in 1939, is designed to train future recruits for the motorised and armoured divisions of the Army. This training is under the supervision of the Army, but the NSKK (National Socialist Motor Corps) furnishes instructors, equipment and facilities.

Training during the first two years includes theoretical instruction, workshop practice, and lectures on traffic regulations. When the Motor-HJ boy has reached a minimum age of sixteen, he takes an examination for his driver's licence.

The technical training includes a knowledge of all motor vehicles and the ability to perform on-the-spot repairs.

The Motor-HJ Abzeichen (Motor HJ Badge) is awarded for proficiency, particularly in driving under difficult terrain conditions (from a tactical point of view).

Sturmboot Einheiten (Assault Boat Units) are a recently developed branch of the Motor HJ, but only a few such groups exist.

28. Marine HJ (Naval HJ)

The Marine-HJ (Naval HJ) is generally composed of boys living in coastal regions and furnishes replacements for the Navy and Merchant Navy. Training is under the supervision of naval personnel, and includes practically all phases of naval activities.

After a three to four years course, the Marine-HJ boy has learned to man row-boats, barges and sailing boats, he has a knowledge of flag signals and basic naval communications and the employment of the various types of naval craft.

The most exhaustive training is offered in the Reichsseesport-schulen (Reich Naval Sport Schools listed in Annexe A), and on the Segelschulschiff (Sailing Training Vessel) "Horst Wessel". Seesportabzeichen (Sea Sport Badges) A, B and C are awarded at the end of each stage of training. The uniform worn by the Marine-HJ differs entirely from the ordinary HJ uniform, and is almost identical with the blue uniform worn by the German Navy, though the HJ armlet is retained.

HJ members serving with the Merchant Marine may carry out inland waterway duties with the Reichsbann Binnenschiffahrt (National Inland Waterways Unit) or coastal duties with the Reichsbann Seeschiffahrt (National Sea-going Unit).

29. Flieger HJ. (Aviation HJ)

The Flieger-HJ prepares boys for service in the German Air Force. Training is controlled by the Oberkommando der Luftwaffe (OKL or Air Force High Command), but instructors establishments and training equipment are furnished by the NSFK (National Socialist Flying Corps).

Flying training begins in the DJ when the twelve year old volunteers, organised in the Flieger-DJ (Junior Aviation HJ) learn to build and to fly model planes.

After transfer to the Flieger-HJ the construction and operation of gliders and theoretical instruction in aviation, navigation, aerial geography and other related subjects form a full training programme.

Many workshops of the German State Railways, German Postal Service, Vocational Schools and industrial concerns are at the disposal of the Flieger-HJ.

There are three Segelfliegerabzeichen (Glider Badges) A, B and C, which are progressively acquired. To pass the examination for Segelfliegerabzeichen C, the applicant must maintain his glider above starting height for at least five minutes.

Selected boys may prepare for the examination for the Luft-fahrerschein (Glider Pilot's Certificate) and take further training as aircraft pilots.

For further details of HJ aviation training see Basic Handbook EDS/G/2 on the NSFK.

30. HJ. Feldschere (First Aid Units)

HJ-Feldschere train mostly for first-aid work in the HJ, but also for duty as medical and ambulance personnel in the Armed Forces.

Training takes place under the supervision of full-time HJ doctors, in extensive courses given at Feldscherschulen (First Aid Training Schools). A list of these schools is given in Annexe A.

Medical lectures, First Aid, Dental care, Casts and Transporting the wounded are some of the items on the general training programme.

After passing an examination, the boy receives a certificate and is entitled to wear the Feldscher Abzeichen (Medical Service Badge).

31. Streifendienst (Patrol Service)

The Streifendienst (SRD) comprises the elite of the Nazi Youth. A board of high local HJ and SS leaders considers the individual applications for service in the SRD, applying the rigorous standards of the original Allgemeine SS.

In the SRD are combined all the various tasks of a supplementary SS and police force. Members check on the appearance of the other HJ members as individuals and in formations; they also control the youths passing through railroad stations and hostels. Furthermore they correct such offences as begging, vagrancy and fraudulent collections.

The SRD operates in closest collaboration with police authorities, including the Gestapo and its members, trained and supervised by SS, are regarded as eventual SS replacements.

The SRD may indeed be considered a major problem for an occupying force and a potential source of opposition and sabotage. Its members are among the most dangerous and unscrupulous types used as raiding squads and informers. In Poland they made up execution squads and formed Rollkommandos (Pursuit Detachments) serving under Death's Head Officers of the SS.

The Schnellkommando (Emergency Squad) is a sub-unit of the SRD which is at the disposal of Germany's various police forces for special duty at danger spots during air raids, etc.

In localities where no regular Feuerwehreinheiten (Fire-fighting Units) of the HJ Bann have been organised, branches of the SRD are employed in this capacity.

The distinctive insignia of the SRD is a black ribbon around the sleeve with the inscription "Streifendienst" (see plate in Annexe C).

32. Musikzüge (Band Platoons)

Musikzüge have always played a great part in the special activities of the HJ and meetings and festivities of the organisation are invariably embellished by the performances of these musical units.

Combinations of band groups range from drum and fife bands to bugle (fanfares) corps and full size brass bands.

Each Bann has at least one Musikgefellschaft (Music Company), and musical training is given in special HJ Courses at most musical institutes in Germany. Some music schools have even been taken over by the HJ for this purpose. (For list, see Annexe A) It is believed that bugle code signals have recently been taught in these schools.

The best musicians are selected to be members of the HJ Reichsmusikzug (National HJ Band) which frequently tours Greater Germany and often broadcasts.

All members of musical units wear "Schwalbennester" (Epaulettes with fringes) as distinctive insignia.

Spielscharen are propaganda troops which present shows and plays expounding Nazi ideology. Some Banne and each Gebiet maintain a Spielschar. Performances of particular interest and value to the organisation are given over the air.

33. Gebirgs-HJ. (Mountaineers)

The Gebirgs-HJ provides mountain training in preparation for future service with the mountain troops. This training is outlined by the Army, and given in close co-operation with the Deutscher Alpenverein (DAV or German Alpine Club).

Members of the Gebirgs-HJ are organised in so-called Bergfahrtengruppen, small groups which undertake independent mountain expeditions, involving mountain climbing and skiing. Upon passing a special course, the Gebirgs-HJ boy acquires the Bergfahrtenerführer Abzeichen (Junior Mountain Guide Badge).

NOTE: The Reiter HJ (Cavalry) was a peace time branch of the HJ specialising as horse-mounted units. It has not been heard of since the outbreak of war.

PART V

HJ LEADERS, RANKS AND UNIFORMS

34. HJ Leaders

With the introduction of compulsory youth service in 1936 a considerable need for new leaders arose. Only 8,000 Hauptamtliche Führer (full-time, professional and salaried officials) were available for the leadership of millions of new members.

At first many new leaders were combed out of the old ranks of the Stamm-HJ (see para 3). When this source was depleted, less qualified appointments were made.

In any case, all HJ officials are chosen by the Command HQ of the next higher administrative level in accordance with the Nazi "Führerprinzip". This has led to much intrigue, the use of influence, and personal conflicts in connection with both appointments and promotions.

To stop the gaps left by leaders having entered the Armed Forces, functionaries of other Nazi Party organisations are being drafted to fill their posts temporarily. Until Spring 1944 Hauptamtliche Führer, of which there are at present about 30,000, received military deferment, but might volunteer, if they so wished.

35. Ranks

The following are the ranks of the HJ proper, in ascending order: any attempt to equate them with Wehrmacht ranks would be misleading, but the diagram of units and unit commanders in Annexe C gives their relative positions.

Beyond inclusion in the diagrams and plates of Annexe C no special treatment of the ranks of the DJ or BDM has been undertaken in this handbook:

Hitlerjunge
Rottenführer
Kameradschaftsführer
Oberkameradschaftsführer
Scharführer
Oberscharführer
Gefolgschaftsführer
Obergefolgschaftsführer
Hauptgefolgschaftsführer
Stammführer
Oberstammführer
Bannführer
Oberbannführer
Hauptbannführer
Gebietsführer
Obergebietsführer
Stabsführer
Reichsjugendführer

Leaders appointed for the duration of the war only, add a "K-" (Kriegs-) in front of their respective ranks (e.g. K-Gefolgschaftsführer).

As the fourteen year old is transferred from the DJ into the HJ, he becomes a Hitlerjunge.

If he possesses the necessary qualifications, he may, after six months service, be appointed Rottenführer.

It takes about one year to attain each of the next higher ranks, e.e. Kameradschaftsführer and Scharführer.

The Gefolgschaftsführer is usually 18 years of age, and Bannführer and higher ranking officials are generally old members with considerable party influence.

Although there is no official age limit, HJ leaders ordinarily transfer to other NSDAP formations after they have reached the age of 35.

The addition of "Ober-" or "Haupt-" to the ordinary rank indicates recognition of length of service only and does not necessarily connote a higher functional status.

From the rank of Bannführer upward, HJ leaders are employed on a fully paid basis. Lower ranks, by the display of special zeal may in certain cases also receive remunerations (Scharführer - 120 RM per month; Gefolgschaftsführer - 200 RM per month).

36. Uniforms and Insignia of Rank

In summer the HJ wear the following:-

- Brown shirt
- Black cotton shorts
- Brown shoes
- Grey stockings
- Black neckerchief with leather knot.

In winter the uniform consists of:-

- Brown shirt
- Dark blue ski-trousers
- Brown balaclava (often with Hoheitsabzeichen)
- Brown boots
- Peaked dress cap (with coloured piping)
- Greenish brown overcoat (with which the dirk and scabbard with HJ motto "Blut und Ehre" is worn)

In Annexe C plates give illustrations of HJ and EDM uniforms and insignia of rank. It should be noted that the ranks of Oberrottenführer(HJ), Jungbannführer and Oberhordenführer(DJ) shown there, are now obsolete.

The insignia of the Reichsjugendführer do not appear in Annexe ;:- his epaulette carries the same cluster of leaves as that of the Gebietsführer, surrounded by a laurel wreath.

The numerals appearing on the silver buttons of the epaulettes in the lower ranks indicate the unit concerned (Arabic for Gefolgschaft, Roman for Bann).

Epaulettes may also be found which differ slightly from those shown in Annexe C. Sometimes letters or abbreviations replace the unit number and indicate HJ branches or schools.

37. Other Insignia and Badges

Plates in Annexe C also illustrate various insignia denoting specialist employment, unit, etc.

The examples given do not form a comprehensive list; the following emblems, not illustrated, may be of interest:-

Flieger (Aviator) : propellor, with wings, on a blue parallelogram
Feldscher (First Aid): white cross on a red circle
Arzt (Doctor) : gold caduceus (rod and serpent) on an oval blue background ringed with gold.

NOTE: In Annexe C the arm patches showing the Untergau and Obergau of the BDM are now obsolete, as the Obergau has been abolished and the Untergau changed to BDM Bann.

PART VI

THE HJ ABROAD

38. HJ in Occupied Territories

The HJ in occupied territories is regionally administered by Befehlsstellen (Territorial Command HQ's).

Befehlsstelle BOHMEN UND MAHREN is the only command which enjoys the status of a Gebiet.

Each Befehlsstelle is headed by a Chef (Chief) with staff. This staff is similar to that of a Gebietsföhrung, and is organised into offices according to the requirements in the territory in question.

39. HJ in Foreign Territories

In common with other NSDAP formations, the HJ has also played a role in the Nazi attempt to sponsor its own organisations in foreign countries, as well as to spread its philosophy there. The approach to the young people of other countries has been outwardly conducted under the guise of promoting understanding between the youth of the world; actually the usual Nazi tactics of infiltration and coercion are employed.

Principle agencies carrying on this work are:-

The Auslands-und Volkstumsamt of the RfF (see para 6).

The Mittelstelle für Volksdeutsche Jugendarbeit (Centre for Germanic Youth Work) of the Nazi Party.

The Volksbund für das Deutschtum im Ausland (VDA or Popular League for Germanism Abroad).

Their main efforts are directed at Germans or people of "Germanic origin" living abroad. The former are coerced, the latter wooed.

Many publications and directives are published purely for such foreign consumption and special HJ representatives are sent to neutral and Axis capitals.

The HJ representatives in countries beyond the borders of Greater Germany, are listed in alphabetical order in accordance with the country to which they are "accredited", in Part Six of Annexe A.

The Auslands-und Volkstumsamt is the executive agency for the organisation of youth in foreign countries. Individual HJ members are responsible to it, and where Banne or other units can be formed, they also come under its jurisdiction.

German-speaking young people from other countries are invited to the Reich, at no expense to themselves, in order to receive training in leadership at HJ institutes.

Special stress in all these matters is placed on the so-called "Germanic" youth, including not only Norwegians, Danes, Dutch and Flemings, but also Walloons, Finns and Latvians.

A more ambitious project, the "League of European Youth" was launched by the Nazis in September 1942 at Vienna. There, the Party managed to rally the youth organisations of fourteen nations (and satellites) around the principles of "unequivocal adherence to the reconstruction of the New Europe" and the promotion of internal struggles against "Jewish-Plutocratic-Bolshevist ideas".

Nations participating were: Germany, Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Croatia, Slovakia, Spain, Norway, Hungary, Holland, Belgium, "Walloonia" (Belgium), Denmark and Finland. A permanent secretariat was formed and a monthly periodical "Junges Europa" (Young People) was founded.

Other international activities of the HJ were the establishment of:-

A World Youth Hostel at Altena near Hagen/Westfalen in 1934 (under the auspices of the International Working Committee for Youth Hostels).

A Germanic House opened in Braunschweig.

WEL (See Annexe A, Part Five) for Germanic Youth at Stegskopf and Seeboden, which co-operate with the Volksdeutsche Waffen SS.

The Germanische Landdienstjugend (Germanic Land Service Youth) for agricultural work in the Eastern territories.

PART VII

OPPOSITION YOUTH MOVEMENTS

40. Legal Measures regarding German Youth

The Polizeiverordnung zum Schutze der Deutschen Jugend (Police Decree for the Protection of German Youth) issued in November 1943 by HIMMLER, in his capacity as Chief of the German Police, indicates that Hitler's campaign to win the youth of Germany, despite its thoroughness, has met with some resistance.

The decree prohibits youths between the ages of 16 and 18 from frequenting places of entertainment after 9 o'clock in the evening, unless accompanied by a parent or guardian.

People under 16 are completely barred from such locales after 9 o'clock, and no one under 18 is permitted to smoke, dance or drink in public under any circumstances.

Those who join the Wehrmacht and SS are exempt from these regulations: this is believed to have encouraged recruitment.

The real purpose of this edict, aside from any pretended moral or so-called disciplinary reasons, may have been to discourage unsupervised gatherings of young people, where opposition to the regime might be planned or covertly displayed.

41. Unofficial youth organisations outside the HJ

Reports on hand clearly indicate the existence and growing strength of underground and unofficial organisations operating outside the HJ.

Some of them are secret remnants of the old "Bündische Jugend" or the confessional youth movements; others are probably Left Wing in origin. Some have recently been created as small groups functioning within a town, city or city district; others may have national or regional connections.

It is not always clear whether these groups exist as convinced anti-Nazi cells or are merely a reaction to the restrictions, discipline and military orientation of the HJ. Many have simply developed out of the desire of young people to enjoy their sports, hikes and cultural activities unshackled by party supervision and coercion.

A group in Austria, called "Wiener Praterschlürfe" plans its activities in local dance halls and its activities have been reported in the Viennese press.

Some meet secretly at their leader's home, some assemble under the guidances of a parish priest or minister, some are led by older people, while a few maintain liaison with adult underground movements. Members often wear secret insignia inside their coat lapels.

So-called "Edelweisspiraten" (EP or Edelweissbanden) in the Rhineland, the Ruhr, Westphalia and Southern Germany have attacked isolated HJ boys, provoked them in street fights, assaulted SS and SA personnel and even performed acts of sabotage, such as starting fires in fuel dumps.

42. Repressive Measures

Nazi police forces, and in particular HJ SRD detachments are constantly on the alert for these opposition groups.

It is reported that on apprehension for the first time, these boys are liable, in case of lesser demeanours to be taken into custody over a weekend ("Jugendarrest") Further offences result in sentences to Zwangsanstalten (Compulsory Institutes).

Two former concentration camps, at RAVENSBRÜCK and MORINGEN, have been transformed into Jugendschutzlager der Sipo (Security Police Camps for the Protective Custody of Youths), and are said to come up to the standard of the normal adult concentration camps, for brutal treatment of the inmates.
