TABLE OF CHEMICAL AND BACTERIOLOGICAL AGENTS

THE CHEMICAL AGENTS

GV: An odorless, colorless, volatile gas that can kill in minutes in dosages of 1 milligram. In the U.S. since the late 1940's it is also known as Sacin. It kills by paralyzing the nervous system.

VX: Another odorless gas that, unlike GV, evaporates rapidly or freezes at room temperature. Because of its low volatility, VX is more effective for a longer period of time. It kills in 1 minute by paralyzing the nervous system.

INCAPACITATING AGENTS

BZ: A gas that is either a psychochemical or an anesthetic which can produce temporary effects of blindness, or deafness in its victims. It has been known to cause unusual behavior. Its use is secret.

RHIZO CONTROL GASES

GW: A non-lethal gas with a deceptive odor similar to apple blossoms. Its action is similar to that of the fast-acting tear gas. It is used to irritate the upper respiratory tract, cause tearing, burning, and itching. It is used in riot control.

PARALYZING AGENTS

SA: A pyridine-like chemical gas that causes convulsions, blindness, vomiting, and shock pains for 10 to 15 minutes. It can be lethal in heavy doses. It is used as a chemical warfare agent. It is used to cause blindness and to cause shock.

An Editorial

Fear And Naivete On Display Here

On Good Friday in Newark, 60 young Americans demonstrated for peace and returned to the plush creature comforts of Denison University. On the same day, half a world away in Vietnam, nearly 50 other young Americans demonstrated for peace and died.

The Saturday report of the Friday local "demonstration" did not say that fewer than three per cent of Denison's students, fewer than two-tenths of one per cent of Newark's citizens and fewer than one-tenth of one per cent of Licking County's citizens took part. The story did quote those who came prepared to be quoted. It did not quote a spokesman for the vast majority who find it unnecessary to parade its support of America.

Let us hope The Advocate speaks for the 99.3 per cent majority which allows this mini-minority to attempt justification for their weakness, fear and naivete through public display. They have a right — even the right to be wrong. They have a right to criticize. Will they have the maturity to accept criticism?

We can understand their opposition to the Vietnam War — any war. They are of draft age. Their college deferment is quickly slipping away toward graduation. They want the pleasure and safety of peace. But then, so does every citizen, especially those Americans fighting in Vietnam.

Those 500,000 citizens hate the war but their love of America is stronger. They fear dying, deplore killing and dread the hardships of war. But they understand that some Americans must risk everything to protect the rights and freedom his mini-minority takes for granted. Most of the men fighting in Vietnam aren't as well educated or as well fixed financially as Denison's mini-minority, but they are smarter about the price of freedom and richer in the character which has and will preserve America.

None of us should forget that the biggest, most effective and most justifiable peace demonstration is daily staged in the rice paddies, mountains and skies of Vietnam. Those demonstrators must also have their doubts about America's involvement in Vietnam. Demonstrators here and in other cities also know that America can't be extricated from it by the same mournful pleadings tantrums and cry-baby tactics these children of the mini-minority use to get a bigger allowance or better car out of papa.

Denison is a great university. We are fortunate to have it in our community. Even in criticism of the three per cent mini-minority, The Advocate salutes and admires the 97 per cent of the students who demonstrate the personal discipline demanded of those who would master the high standards of a Denison education.

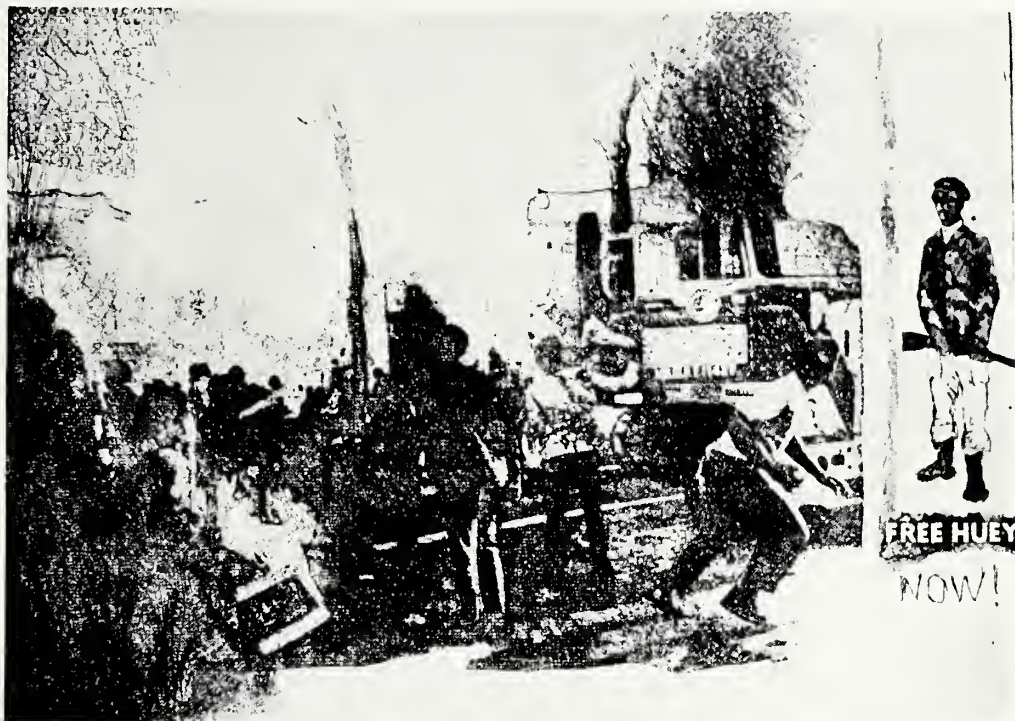

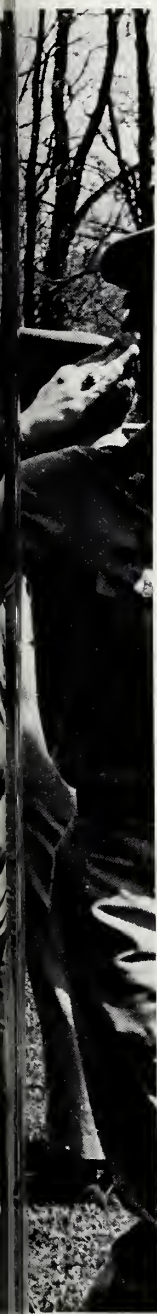

Thank goodness the future leadership and change so vital to the preservation of America will come from that 97 per cent. In the meantime, let us hope the university's administration and "mature" faculty members can salvage some of the three per cent. We need their energy and dedication.

Our doubts, fears and innate love of peace must not detract from this principle: Whether America is right or wrong, half a million Americans are fighting for their life, and ours, in Vietnam. They must not be deprived of the materials, moral support and understanding so necessary for the protection of their lives.

The Advocate commends those Denison students who honored Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. We suggest, however, that they lead a national movement to commemorate his birth. It is his birth and his great lessons of living which served America and Americans best.

Coach Keith Piper's Big Red gridders fell to a 4-5 record in 1968. The young team showed fine spirit in three successive victories early in the season and a solid Dad's Day victory over Oberlin. The 13-7 loss to Muskingum was a heart-breaking game as the Red won every statistical department but could not overcome the Muskie experience.

The team was led by the three senior captains Jim Kijowski, Bob Jacobucci, and Jim Bell; three All-Ohio selections Henry Durand, Jim Lynn, and Ed Rowe; two-way performer Phil Winze; and sophomore quarterback Eric Schultz. Next year's team should benefit from this year's experience.

The 1968 Denison soccer team, coached by Ted Barclay, finished its season with seven wins, four losses, and three ties. This record, however, was not truly indicative of the caliber of the team, which was hampered in its many close contests not only by injuries to key players, but also by bad breaks which sometimes spelled the difference.

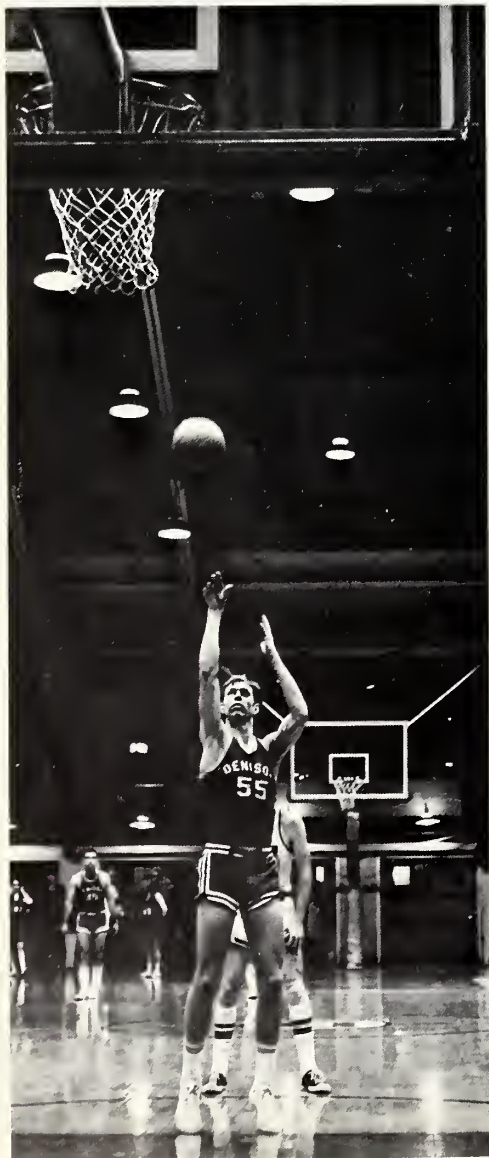

Out of 14 games, five went into overtime periods. The defense consisted of Captain Pete Borden in the goal and two fullbacks, Bill Rinehart and Bob Burnham. These two were voted most improved and most valuable players respectively.

The offense was the key, however, to the total success of the team. The Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Wooster, and Howard University games were thrillers that showed the offense at its best. Dave Douglas led all scorers with 11 points and was followed closely by Mike Martay at inside. Injuries to starters played a particularly devastating role on the line as seen by the fact that one solid unit rarely remained for one week, which limited its effectiveness.

Overall though, the season was a successful one due to the desire of the team to excell. This should serve as a solid basis for next year's team, which is even more promising due to several returning veterans.

BASKETBALL (Won 8, Lost 12)

Coach Dick Scott's hoopsters underwent a rebuilding after winning the Ohio Conference crown during the 1967-68 year and replacing three starters from that championship team. Much of the season was spent testing talent and experimenting with the best combinations.

Junior forward 6'6" Charley Claggett earned the vote of his teammates as the Most Valuable Player on the squad and was also named captain for next season. Charley was again assigned as a first-team member of the prestige All-Ohio-Conference unit. Sophomore 6'6" center Andy Weiland took the Most Improved laurels for this year's work at pivot.

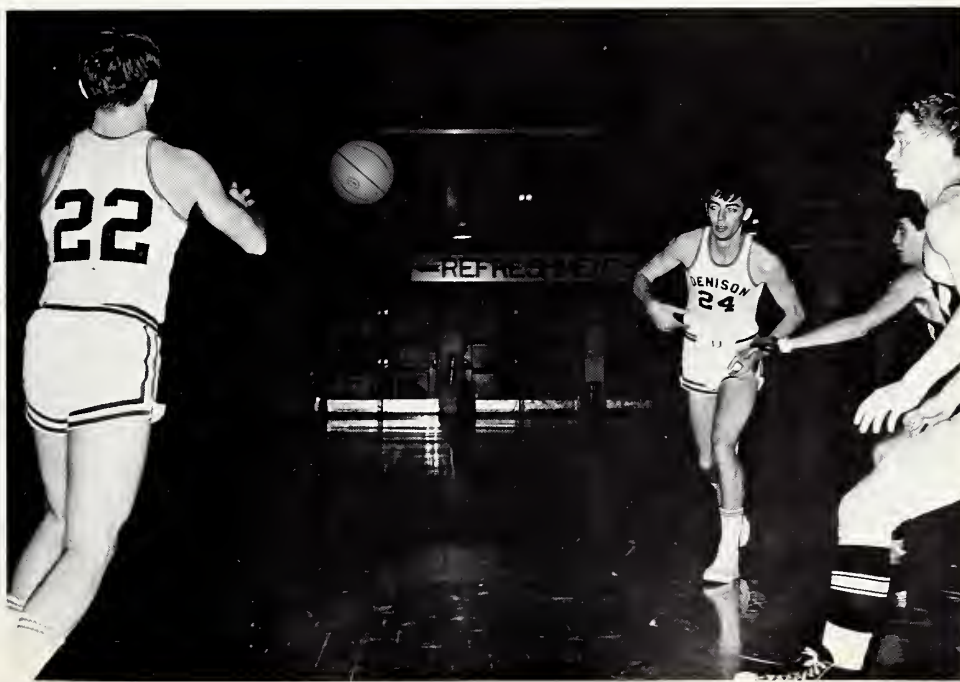

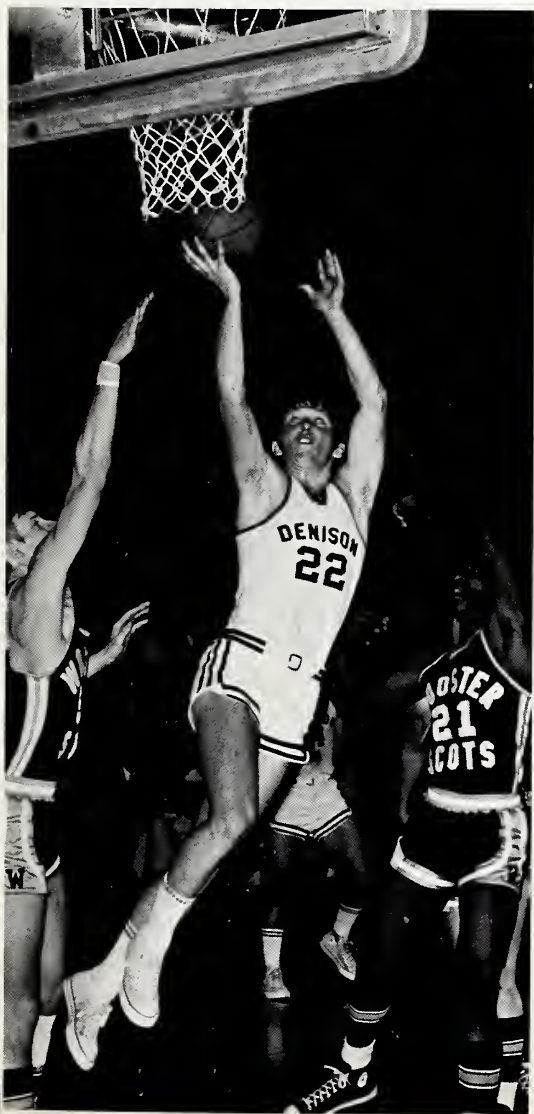

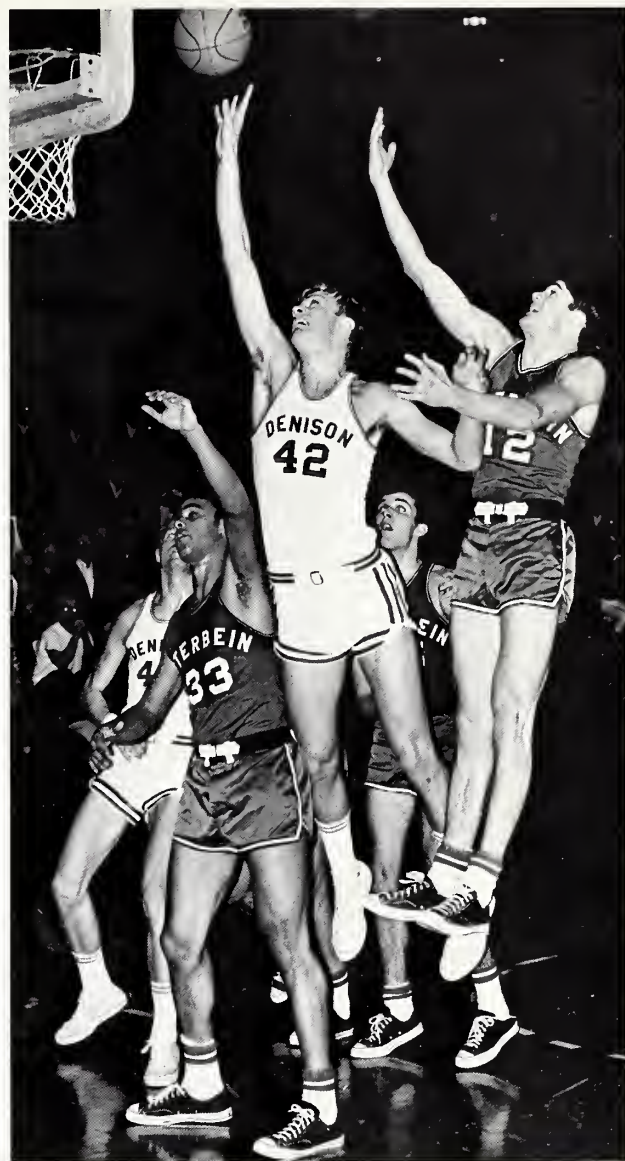

Prospects look good for next year as the team is losing only two seniors: Co-Captain Rip Gellein and Paul Sandusky. The Big Red hopes again to realize its potential in the 1969-70 season.

Ten returning lettermen made Coach Tommy Thompsen's grapplers a strong preseason favorite to retain the OAC Championship. However, this was somewhat clouded when injuries cost the team the services of two-time conference champ Mike Schrage.

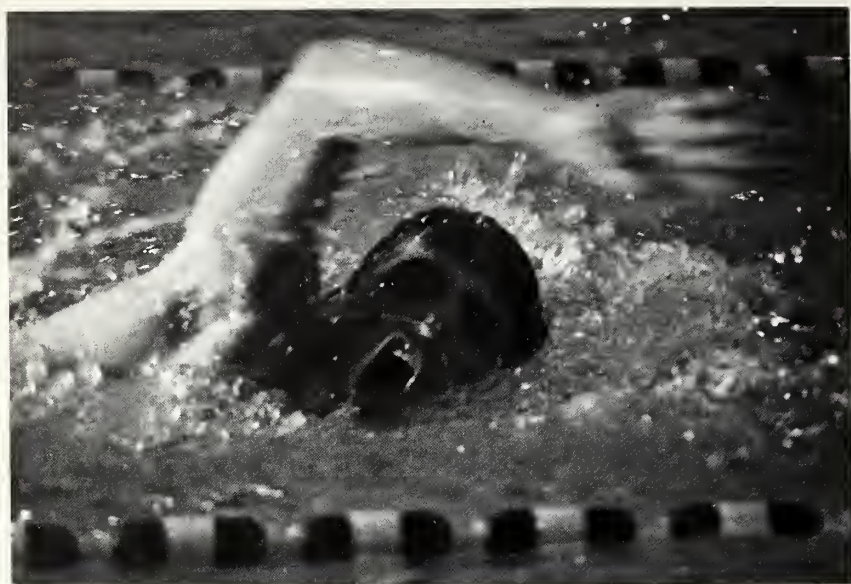

The Big Red was somewhat erratic in dual meet competition, posting a 10-4 win-loss record. However, their tournament performances were all but erratic as they won the GLCA Tournament for the third straight year. First-place finishers in the GLCA meet were Platt Hill at 115 and Co-captains Pete Weed and Wayne Minich at 152 and 177 respectively. A superb team effort brought the OAC team trophy back to Denison for a second straight year as the Big Red barely outpointed runner-up Ohio Wesleyan 63-60. Gordy McAlpin and Minich won individual titles, both for the second year in a row.

John Musselman and Steve Froberg were co-MIP's and Minich was MVP. As next year's co-captains, Mike Schrage and Tom Stepp will be leading a strong team that should vie for the OAC Championship for the third straight year.

The achievements of the Big Red tankers this year were matched only by their enthusiasm as they swam to a second place finish in the OAC Championships and a sixth place national standing at the NCAA Small College Division Championships. Added to Coach Barclay's veteran squad was a group of outstanding freshmen and the able help of Assistant Coach Rick McBurney. The two coaches subjected this manpower to the most rigorous training ever undertaken by Denison swimmers and the results established the Raccoon Creek Surf Club as a power to be reckoned with in small college swimming.

Bringing a 7-1 dual meet record into the Conference Championships, Denison's tankers came within 22½ points of ending the sixteen-year winning streak of Kenyon College and gave examples of the quality performances to be expected from the Big Red in the future. Looking back over a successful season, the mermen chose John Reister their most valuable swimmer and elected Reister and Mike Donough co-captains for next year. In further recognition of his outstanding efforts, Reister was chosen the most improved swimmer on the team by his coaches.

With eight All-American swimmers and divers returning to Surf Club Headquarters, prospects look good for defeating the Kenyon Lords in the up-coming year. Good-bye, Larry!

For the third straight year Tommy Thompsen's Big Red lacrosse team ran away with the Midwest Lacrosse Association title. Posting a 12-2 record, Denison went undefeated in league action, losing its only games to two national lacrosse powers: Navy and Syracuse. In spite of these two losses, in the first two scheduled games of the season, the Big Red spirit and talent rolled through the remainder of the season without dropping another contest.

At the annual awards banquet, Jeff Jewett was selected to take over the responsibility of captain from retiring senior goalie Bob Martin. Martin was chosen 1969's Most Valuable Player, while junior Craig "Tex" Ritter was selected by the coaches as Most Improved Player of this year's team. The George Parks Memorial Award for the best defensive player this year went to senior Jerry Stacy for his admirable defensive job throughout the season.

The team will heavily feel the loss of seniors Martin, Stacy, and Pete Borden during next year's season. Nevertheless, fans and foes of Tommy Thompsen remain confident and fearful that he will again produce a number one lacrosse team with the biggest of the "Big Sticks of the Midwest."

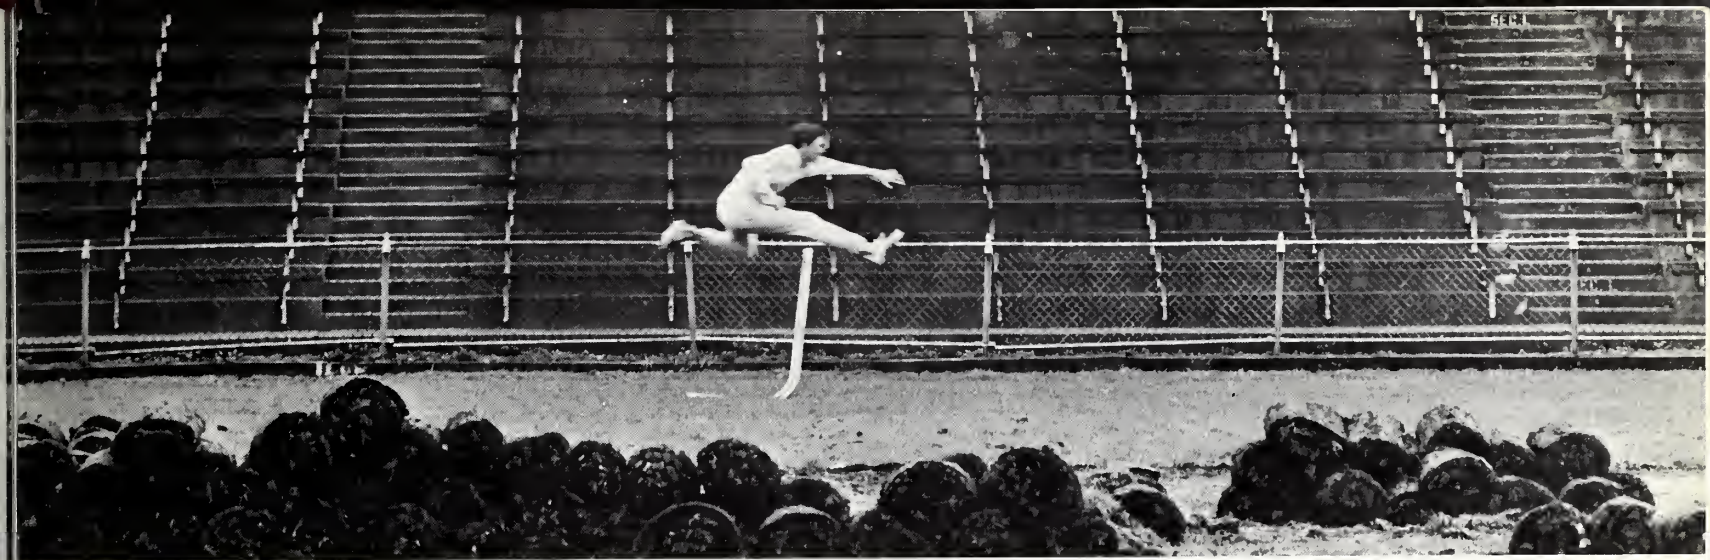

Denison took another step toward a truly superlative track team this year. This year's squad was the best Denison has seen in several years. Injuries took an extremely heavy toll from the cream of Denison's crop. Especially promising years from Jim Kirk, Dave Osborn, Neil Smith, and Tom Jefferson were cut short by various hampering injuries. Bill Henceroth was also temporarily out of commission but nevertheless had a successful season. Henceroth will serve as captain next year, taking over from senior co-captains John Rudisill and Jim Kirk. Other graduating seniors are John Jamieson, Dave Osborn, and Phil Whalen.

Standout individuals over the season were Kit Fox and Tom Jefferson. Jefferson, the sprinter from Newark, came back from a pulled muscle injury to take a third in the 220 in the conference meet after a recurrence of the injury in the final yards of the race. A sophomore hurdler-sprinter, Fox took third in the highs and second in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in the conference meet. Fox was high scorer over the year with 145 points, and Jefferson followed closely with 143 points.

The Most Improved Player distinction was earned by Kit Fox, and John Rudisill was selected Most Valuable Player. Coach Shannon hopes that next year's team will not be so unfortunate in the injury department, and he looks forward to another good year.

CROSS COUNTRY (Won 5, Lost 4)

The cross country team returned to school early this year to find that four of its top seven were academically or physically unable to compete in the '68 season. There were, noted Dr. Seils, fifteen people who wanted to be runners. Two months later there were ten fine runners to cover the four-mile course.

The Big Red registered a 5-4 record in competing against the toughest schedule a Denison harrier team has ever faced. The distance men beat Wittenberg, Slippery Rock, Otterbein, Ohio Wesleyan, and a fine Akron team.

Although only Jeff Valentine, Andy Beltz, Doug Scholz, and John Rudisill met the stiff requirements for a varsity letter, all men scored high on occasion. Tom Birkbeck and Bill Henceroth, despite health problems, turned in fine performances.

Dave Curry, a 4'11" giant, inspired his teammates with his courage and faithfulness in practice.

The squad elected Dave Weston, a consistently fine runner, to captain next year's team.

With only the loss of Captain John Rudisill, the Ohio Conference champion, Dr. Seils feels that "We should be ready for the fourth consecutive winning season."

An abundance of rain put a damper on the tennis season. The Big Red played when possible and earned the rights of second in the conference, bettered only by Oberlin, who earned a scant two more points than the Big Red to take first honors. Bill Jack and Jim Stocker took first in the conference in second doubles.

Graduating out of competition will be Craig Dripps, #1 singles and doubles and 1969 Most Valuable Player, and Bill Jack, #5 singles and #2 doubles. Returning next year as captain will be George Bishop, along with this year's Most Improved Player Chip Reynolds, Geof Verney, Jim Stocker, Bill Gregg, and Bill Lathrop.

Despite optimistic pre-season hopes, the Denison baseball team finished with a 2-8 record. However, there were some bright lights. Tom Oldham played center field with abandon and led the team with his outstanding hustle.

The highlight of the season came when senior pitcher Dan Lewis shut out Otterbein 2-0 in the presence of sixteen major league scouts on hand to see the Otter's star pitcher Jim McKee. The other win was squeaked out against a pitiful Kenyon 9-7.

Next year the Big Red can look forward to the return of some potentially good young players: catcher Skip Maier, first baseman Tom Dissette, infielder Jack Martin, and outfielders Trevor Young and Tom Oldham. The future mound corps should consist of Kerry Beringhaus, John van Roden, and Bruce Calfee.

This was a building year with good material available and excellent spirit. Yet, this material was not applied effectively in every game, and Coach Russo is looking forward to a better season next year.

Coach Seils, Sarvis, Rankin, Burling, Johasky, Keelber, Tinker.

GOLF (Won 8, Lost 3)

The high point of the golf season came when the Big Red took first place in the annual Denison University Invitational in which all the conference teams compete at the Granville Inn Golf Course. An impressive 8-3 record, a third in the GLCA match, and a second in the Ohio Conference boast the accomplishments of this year's golf team.

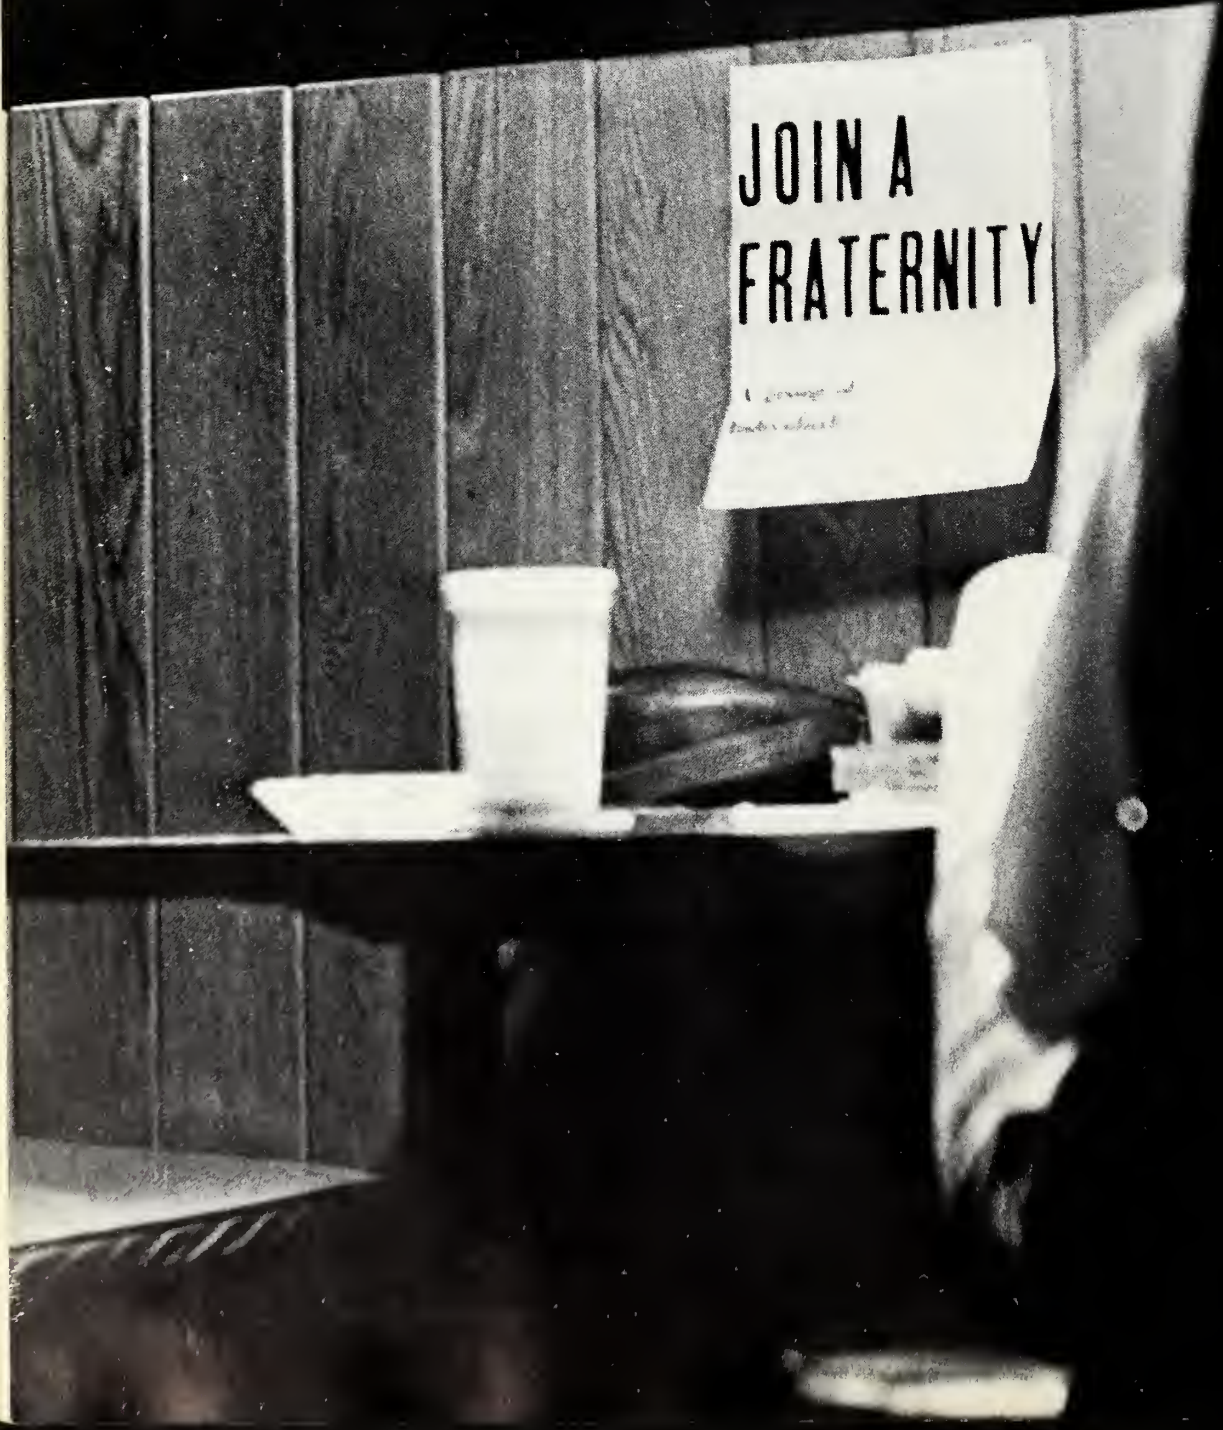

Six men lettered in golf and significantly none of these were seniors. Junior Bill Burling took double team honors as Most Improved and Most Valuable Player. Burling served throughout the season as Denison's number one stroker. Jeff Johasky will again serve as captain of the identical squad next year. The experience and talent of this team should bring the conference crown back to Granville.

Yes, Vernie, there really is a Santa Claus.

Rush had us all up for an exciting year, and the eleven girls we pledged proved to live up to our expectations. Homecoming greeted our alums with . . . "What do you mean a jolly green giant?" . . . Who will ever forget our socializer and faculty tea at the house—both on the same week-end! Dad's Day brought a really great meal and a repeat of the novelty show . . . "Daddy, how many times have I told you—call me Olivia!" . . . A trip to "Wonderland" was in store for us at Fall Parties, and Christmas Parties, with dancing around a pool, seemed to continue the theme. The last "Adios" of pledge formals was soon followed by inspiration week and . . . "Amigo what?" . . . It proved to be an exciting week, but the actives were more exhausted at the end than our new initiates. Spring Weekend coincided with our mounting spring fever, so all were up for the big weekend.

It was a year of pledges whose grade averages were higher than the actives', pinning ceremonies, pledge revolts with our housemother, Mrs. King, as pledge guidance (slave driver), "the group" and "integrated" dorms . . . "How many roommates do you really have?" . . . active revolts in the spring, and finally the Senior skit; it was a year that got us all down to the real "nitty-gritty" of sorority life.

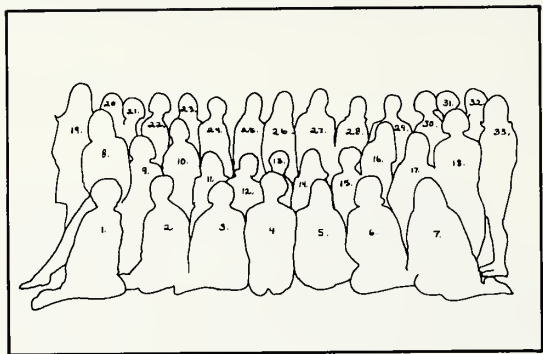

Pledging Night.

Dad's Day Novelty Show—"Look what I got!"

A memory of rush: songs, novelty show, meetings, and talk ... all sisters together plus new faces galore.
 Little darlings, learning how to be perfect Eloises from Carol Jones ...
 Pledge prank: stealing the actives' make-up, leaving us to our natural beauty.
 Hey, Mahone (I mean Jones)! A surprise pinning for our married president.
 A turkey on Sorority Circle? Maybe the pledges ought to give lessons in catching Wingless Angels ...

O pening night for the Senior Skit: "Robin Hood, Robin Hood ...," "Holy, holy, holy ...," and the "pill is a no-no!"
 Merry Olde England ... pledge formals ... A draw-bridge on the front porch?
 Inspiration Week ... but first, a final treat for the pledges: Yum-Yum!
 Congratulations! another ring. (But why an under-classman?)
 Replay of "pass the powderpuff" at the Initiation Banquet!
 Onward, new officers! The seniors bid farewell and remind us of their superb example ...
 No trespassing. House reserved for the Loving Two-some.

Having pledged a total of twenty-nine lovelies, the Alpha Phis of 68-69 knew they were headed for an exciting year. In addition to these new faces, we initiated Susie, a sophomore Japanese student, into pumpkin-carving and apple-bobbing at Halloween, and we adopted a ten-year-old American Indian girl as our very youngest sister.

Under the shadow of our beautiful new heraldry, we planned one activity after another. Dante's Inferno heated everyone's soul; or was it the trip to the Tiki beforehand? We shared Christmas Parties with the Kappa's, Theta's, and DG's at the Golden Bull. The trip home through the blizzarding snow was almost as exciting as the party. The Christmas spirit continued when our former president, now traveling field secretary, returned to play Santa at our annual house party.

The pledges quickly mastered the kitchen in order to give the DU pledges a welcome change from Saga dining. When it came to housecleaning, however, our girls let the SAF's and Sigma Chi's show them how. The pledges had a new trick for the actives every week until Inspiration Week. Then it was our turn to invent surprises.

At "Granville Inn Revisited," or Pig Dinner, we were entertained by Barb's de"tail"ed ode, Mr. Huff's definition of the plum as a raisin, and the Kappa Sigs. Someone was extremely generous with rings, pins, and lavaliers. Candle ceremonies were definitely "in." Spring showers, the wedding kind, were our favorite pastime.

Miss Smeltz, our housemother, opens our Christmas gifts to the house.

The Unsinkable Molly Brown and a round of fall rush parties—togetherness with the hubbub of excitement as upperclass Delta Gammas and freshmen meet each other for the first time.

The thrill of pledge night—emotions reach a climactic pitch as one by one new pledges are enthusiastically welcomed into the House by a continuous chain of sisters.

A return to equilibrium—pledges and actives enter into serious discussions at firesides on intellectual stimulation, social adjustment, and individual interests. The DG House hosts an Experimental College seminar.

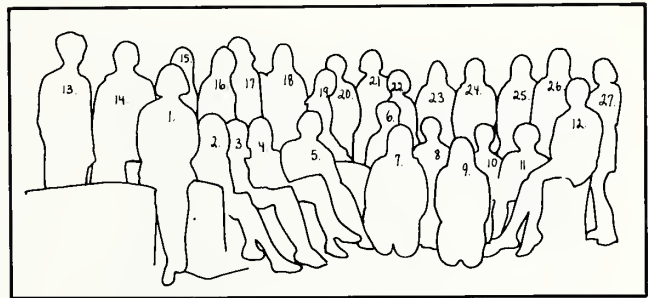

The Christmas season—its spirit is captured with a party for the Newark Children's Home with the ATO's, complete with Santa and multi-colored packages under a fir tree. An atmosphere of gleeful chaos pervades the DG House as Saint Nick teases ebullient boys and girls, and new toys are experimented with.

Pledge formals—as sophomore pirates serve candlelight dinner prepared by the junior class in a room decorated in the manner of 20,000 leagues under the sea, senior pranksters pull a few in their annual skit.

Inspiration week—in a combination of humor and seriousness weekly events reveal pledge class unity, spontaneity, and natural wit as well as increasing reflection in preparation for initiation.

Theta-Fiji Kiss-in.

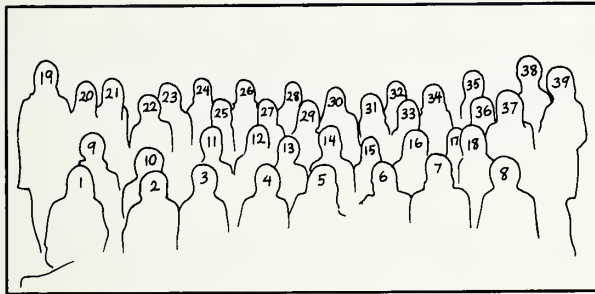

A novelty show that had us all tuckered out.

Trials, Triumphs, Treasured Memories—Rush: a new, short-haired look for our “flying” president, a broken “West Side” tape, poise, Marg’s needless worry, a traditionally terrific pledge class! . . . Another Pig Party—another show . . . Fall retreat to Black Hand: wading through icy rapids singing Theta songs—our spirit was the only thing that wasn’t dampened . . . Fall Parties and army unies . . . letters from National . . . Christmas Carols for faculty families in 10 degree weather . . . Claudia’s pre-exam week visit (help!) . . . and finally, the end of a long, hard semester: 4.0’s, A’s on comps, and the pledges all make grades!—maybe an indication of an upward swing in scholarship? Our rapidly diminishing senior class—“The Newlywed Game” . . . Pledge Formals—HTH night for the freshmen and a sock-it-to-’em skit . . . Initiation Week: “Something Wonderful;” the scavenger hunt—you had to get a pink what? Spring thoughts begin to dominate . . . soaring kites, high-flying spirits, laughter and love pins and rings for the girls—pond-shots for the hapless guys . . . “She’s got those devilish eyes” . . . a lasting bond of sisterhood—for graduates, transfers, those who remain . . . Faith, Hope, Love . . . these three.

ATΩ

It is an established custom at the Tau lodge to recognize the accomplishments of individuals and groups by giving them a Good of the Order. Here are a few of these '68-69 pats on the back which were probably never heard at Chapter meetings.

Zeta Iota hereby gives a Good of the Order to:

... Virg, for his valiant effort in trying to rise above the Oh Hell card game at Okeefanokee Swamp League.

... alumnus Felix "Filter King" Fahnoe, our man in Micronesia, for mailing the name and address of some babe who's fifty years old, but "still turns guys on!"

... Cooker, whose Headliner, posted in conspicuous places around the house, kept the brothers up to date on each others idiocies.

... Packie, for spiriting the drive which killed the obnoxious twenty-four hour.

... Theta Eta Chi Woody for his slavish devotion to his career at the Market.

... the Fraternal Composite Organization from Dr. Schaff for proving that literacy is not a prerequisite to business success.

... Sarge whose temperance and cool head while under the influence inspired the brothers to duck fast.

... any man in the pledge class who managed to get a number to the left of the decimal point in his accum.

... Vanka, who finally caught the difference between the lawn and the living room carpet.

... Social Chairman Eric Manterfield who once miscalculated and bought one keg of Michelobe too many.

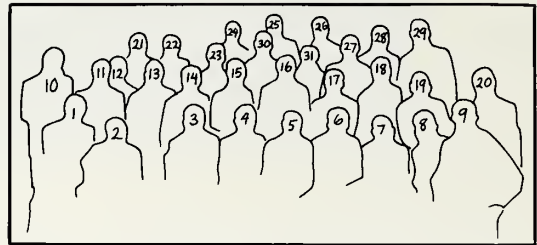

... all the men of ATO who made '68-69 the good year it was and who are looking for an even better year in '69-70.

And a special thanks to Bourbon whose studliness has been a real help in paying our social budget.

The Delta Chi social year started off with a bang with such treasured memories as—Road Rally—arrest who for trespassing?—How many outhouses does that church have, Tom?—Andy the Bear likes Ripple, too—Pre-Party Party at Christmas—

Delta Chi also experienced many "Happenings" of a spontaneous variety in which everyone did his "thing"—Zilch—"How do you get LaFrance bluing out of a carpet?"—The night the "bed" fell on Leon—"Blue Moon" in the shower—Benson and the Disappearing Room—"C'mon guys, who filled up my room with newspaper?"—Fascist Pigs!

Several individual members are also well known for various exploits. For instance—phone calls to Alberta—Freddie and the Chapter Dinner—Birky and the Flying Fickle Feet of Fate—Loren and the Quarter-inch Cake—Lost your canoe, huh, Jim?—Yes, General Baker, Sir!—Frieda's Special. So far the year has progressed in its usual calm manner with promise of bigger things to come. Like the five pondings which have yet to come about. So as the year comes to a close, the brothers of Delta Chi all repair to look for yellow Corvettes with short trousers.

Caught in the act.

Well, I'll give it a try.

With Cubba Bear's stomach being rubbed as fast as Rowe's was growing, the chapter moved from the era of the figurehead into that of the financial tycoon. While Ritter and Ross were busy buying a bar with the idea of turning it into a rice paddy for more realistic war games, the remainder of the house was occupied with Smoke Rings, the pledges with creative apathy.

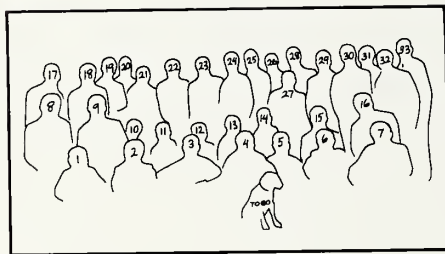

Even without E.D.'s poetry and Erbaugh's early-latrline hair style, Scotty Bomba christened the year as one which gave us many tangibles to hold onto, i.e., 15 new pin-mates and the 10¢ draft at the Tiki.

The second annual Gaper Bowl was a true victory of man over muck, but Armistice Day brought the chapter low; the score: Whiskey Sours 13, DU 00. Caliban was again sent to the finals of the Grand National Drags, while Futz won the Dick Ross Low-Blow Back-Biting Award.

Never afraid to look back, the chapter continued relations with its foreign ambassadors in Africa and the Far East, learning only that the Peace Corps was as bad as everyone had deemed it. Billy Butler, won't you please go home.

KΣ

Gamma Xi, a tower of strength.

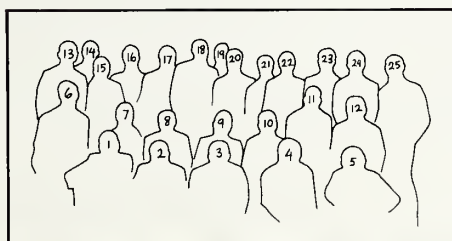

Fall is upon us and once again the brothers of Kappa Sigma return to find that all is well; and, in fact, better. Capt. Ronk and Rich have taken it upon themselves to add to the physical plant. Sophomores pitch in to complete the task ... paint and blisters ... where, who, what is Brad Buckles? ... "it'll give it that rustic look." The pledge class is chosen and ushered into the social scene under the guise of the watermelon party. Even "Nutsie" himself is spitting out seeds before this fiasco is over. The parties go on and each week a different band is found sleeping in the KSig living room. Suddenly Christmas is upon us ... the annual Kiddie Party. The cake and ice cream flow freely and Santa Claus brings enough toys for all the kids in Ohio.

The IM basketball squad, led by player-coach "Michael" with a little help from the other "big-Green" hoop standouts, finishes the season with an unblemished record. Rip Gellein would like to help also, but he is co-capt. of the varsity team. J. Brewer controls the funds of DCGA. G. Kusch and J. Smith make sure the Denisonian remains an award-winning publication. J. Veltmann heads the Bandersnatch staff. All the brothers are busy preparing for the Kappa Sigma Centennial in 1969-70.

Spring victory gives Lambda Chi 2nd place in IM's.

Choppers on "High."

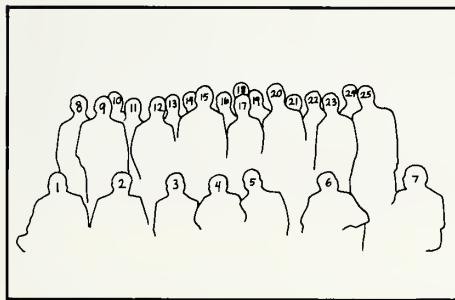

Under the recognizably capable leadership of Peter Harrison, the Gamma Iota Chapter of a duly respected Lambda Chi Alpha National spread its cognizant effervescence over the campus and community in another year of involvement. Midst the tedious trials of academics, arduous efforts in athletics, and traumatic on-campus and heavy off-campus socializing, the Choppers succeeded in winning the May Day Song Contest.

Eliciting accolades of a more sincere specificity, Jim "Gilligan's for sophomore cars" Serianni and Dave "I'll ad'minister my own wedding in a year" Bushnell managed to maintain a newly acquired progressivism in leading both the DCGA and DCA respectively. Other leadership notables for the year include President Hairy's vice-presiding over IFC, Jocko's driving leadership of Auto Court, Jed's recycling of a Sophomore Class Council dilemma, and Artie's disorienting of a new crop of computer dates. Our five JA's have been justly rewarded—three with high house offices and one with a wife. Lastly, Phill Dirt and the Moundbuilders managed to folk-up another year at the Bander (as opposed to 'snatch), with perverse songs and skits.

Now on a more jocular note, the house was blessed with Borden's soccer captancy, Mouse McAlpin's OAC championship, and Tro's heavy weight. Big time representation was also enjoyed on the lacrosse, tennis (captain Dripps), and baseball teams, the latter led by Go-Go's two home runs.

Socionomically speaking, all others in the Big Green unit somehow managed to drown their sorrows and hustle their honeys at most of the Lambda Chi parties; the Toga Party, being the featured attraction of the fall, served sangies by the gross and "Parthenon Passion Punch" by the 'za.

Well, at any rate, as the Choppers face the trials and dribblations of a spring without "buchoes," we look back on a year well deserved ... still to face a couple of delightful rendez-"vues" with our National's TS next month.

Sunday afternoon meditation . . .

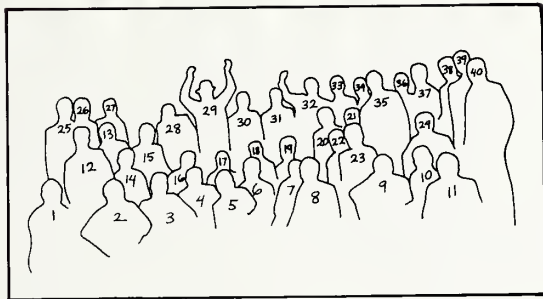

For the Phis, this has been a year of revering old ties and traditions—Good relations with the alums . . . Strengthening ties with the National . . . Renewal of the Machine . . . Renewing the old fining policy . . . It has also been a year for creating new ties and traditions—The tune from the Penthouse has spread to sophomore hall . . . Renovation of the house . . . Orange and pink halls . . . A subdued penthouse . . . Jet and the boys in Sleeping Dorm Seminar . . . Crash instead of burn . . . No depinnings . . . A clean kitchen . . . Greaseless food . . . Phis in the libes . . . More parties than ever before . . . All in all, a fine year for the men of Phi Delta Theta.

Once again we Phi Gams put the left shoe on the right foot. There was action—IMs rolled to number one, grades jumped, checks bounced, and Tom Starr got burned. Erstwhile Rollie expanded relations with various campus kitchens. Two of our sophomore swimmers set pool records while Schlau was involved in some record breaking of his own.

Jocko's extensive research in the union confirmed our academic hypothesis, while Hondo toured the USA at the expense of all. Bucky published the Denisonian and learned to drink—all at once. We were ably led by David Zeemer who found you can lead only as far as others will follow you. He never did seem to get out of the rack.

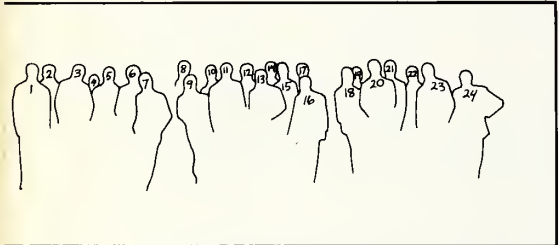

While "Kitchen Shot" was the word of the day, some of the brothers still prefer the liquid diet. The Fiji's, however, never lost their puritanical spirit. A new altar was christened on the second floor under the auspices of a new moon. A relaxed and solemn atmosphere pervaded all as Chats grew some hair and Tommy found a girl. As we look back at 1969 from both ends of a social and academic continuum, we only wish we knew what it was that we got together.

Good fortune smiled on the Alph Lodge again this year as the House celebrated not only the crowning of the "King of the Greeks," C. Moore, but also a dubious Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship trophy.

Rush yielded the most promising pledge class ever, including a "face man" and several intramural drunks. But the real highlight of the fall had to be "Jungle Jim's" rendering of the immortal Paddington J.

As the epitome of the "uncommon closeness" found down at the House, Ollie and "Frank" Dennis struck up fast friendships with some of the local "fellas."

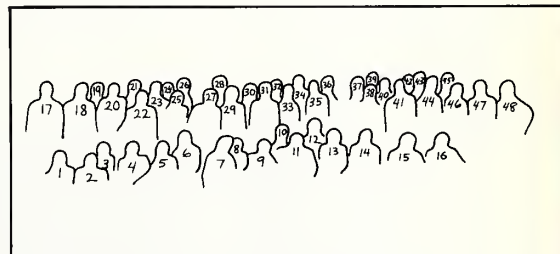

And it doesn't matter how many women dumped on Dallas, the SAE lavalier remains the most ubiquitous item of jewelry on the campus, due to the endeavors of Max, the Captain, The Pad Brothers, Buffalo, Schenks, The Spook, and Cherkala.

Bag renounced the celibacy that only a "Frog" could enjoy and astonished everyone with his whirlwind pinning. But only Ben Allen could dream of going all the way in providing a theme for a house party, and his Swasey Chapel wedding proved to all that he could accept his fate like the Grand Old Man that he is.

Finally, in the "believe-it-or-not department," there can be only one entry this year: thrice EFO Robbie passed comps.
